Former Army General Quits When Superiors Refuse to Permit Changes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Pelham D. Glassford, dashing former army general, whose policy toward the bonus expeditionary force brought him into conflict with the administration, resigned today as Washington's chief of police.

The immediate cause of his resignation was the refusal of the District of Columbia commissioner to authorize personnel changes he had proposed as a means of increasing the efficiency of Washington police.

In his letter of resignation, submitted to the district commissioner, Glassford criticized a situation which he said "has been one of the chief reasons for difficulties and failures in the police departments of too many of our cities."

"I find myself, he wrote, 'in the equivocal position of so many other police chiefs in the United States, namely holding a position of great responsibility but deprived of the essential authority to discharge it without fear and without favor.'"

Glassford's differences with the commissioners and the administration, however, went back to the time of the bonus army encampment here last summer—a trying period which saw him speeding around the city by motorcycle day and night, taking personal command in threatening situations, and usually averting trouble by plain and friendly talk to the veterans.

President Hoover publicly criticized Glassford for buying food for the destitute veterans and permitting them to erect shelters on government land. Glassford, who himself had seen 30 years service in the regular army, opposed the action of the commissioners and the president in using troops to evict the bonus army

FINAL TRUCE OFFER REFUSED BY MOROS

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Moro tribesmen who have been on the warpath for two weeks have refused a final truce offer and have resumed fighting with constabulary forces near Tayungan, according to dispatches to the Daily Herald.

Sixty native police under Captain Angeles attacked the Moros and finally captured and entrenchment at noon today after the tribesmen had fled. There were no casualties among the constabulary, and no Moros were found. Bloodstains in the entrenchment indicated tribesmen had been wounded during the fight, however.

It was estimated that the Moros had about 10 effective rifles. They rely upon their spears, bows and knives for use in close combat.

Football Star At Sing Sing Turns In Suit

For the football season at the prison is only starting and "Jumbo" Morano, 220-pound grid star, is gone.

Morano's term ended today and he turned in his football suit, as well as his prison garb.

John Law, former Notre Dame captain, who is coaching the Sing Sing eleven, said the loss was great but he did not regret Morano's departure.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—(UP)—President Hoover has no interest in foreign oil business, and did not oppose a tariff on petroleum, he declared in a telegram sent to C. C. Teague, former federal farm board member, who is a leader of the Republican party campaign in California.

In 15 years since he entered public service, President Hoover has "not a dime's interest" outside of the United States, the executive declared.

"I have your telegram stating that Democratic agents, despite all proof to the contrary, are still circulating misleading statements through their fields that I have been opposed to relief of the oil industry because of my supposed interest in foreign oil and that I opposed the tariff on oil," the president's wire said.

"This is usual type of politics. I have not in 15 years since I entered public service had a dime's interest outside of the United States of any kind, including oil. I supported the oil tariff in revenue bill and signed that bill. Without support I have I do not believe it would have received sufficient vote from non-oil sections to have been carried."

ROOSEVELT IS AGAINST BONUS AT THIS TIME

Democratic Nominee Eliminates Question From Campaign Issues

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—(UP)—The soldiers' bonus apparently has been eliminated as a campaign issue in the spectacular Pittsburgh address by Franklin D. Roosevelt who moved today into Ohio and Indiana to continue his assault on Republican policies.

The governor last night reaffirmed his belief expressed last April to the effect that there should be no bonus payment until there is a surplus in the treasury.

He not only delivered a stinging indictment of the Republican campaign management as "panic breeders" who "spread the gospel of fear" among wage earners, but he attempted to place the administration of President Hoover on the defensive for what he said was its "failure to balance the budget."

The governor urged "beer for revenue." He promised to work for immediate legalization of beer so that the revenue might help balance the budget. He ridiculed utterances by Henry Ford, W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad, Charles M. Schwab and others that the reelection of Herbert Hoover is necessary to insure good prospects for business.

Johnson Places Blame for Difficult Position on Finance Department

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A possible movement seeking a more simple form of state government through broader constitutional powers and a demand for an explanation of charges of maladministration in the state department of agriculture, stood out today as the controversy raged around the Rolph administration continued to broaden.

Placing the entire blame for the state's difficult financial position on the state department of finance, State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson, said.

"Through the years this department has obtained the control of budgeting state tax money, and through this power alone it has for many years forced the legislature to continuously increase its power, which has been taken from the administrative constitutional offices until most of the constitutional agencies are becoming more and more perfunctory."

"The power of this department has become so great that it has created a bureaucratic government which has no place in popular government."

"By their blundering and arrogant action," he said.

KILLS HIMSELF IN ELEVEN STORY LEAP

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(UP)—George M. Willems, 55, recently resigned as a vice president of Armour and company, leaped to death today from a window of his apartment on the eleventh floor of a north side apartment building.

His wife was in the apartment. She said Willems was despondent over injuries incurred in an automobile accident more than a year ago, which forced his retirement soon after he attempted to resume his duties six months ago.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Muriel Pawley and Charles Corkran, young Britons captured by Chinese bandits on Sept. 7, have been released and arrived at Pankash today.

Mrs. Pawley and Corkran obtained their freedom through negotiations by British and Japanese authorities. It was understood a small ransom was paid, although the original demands of the bandits were fantastic.

Mrs. Pawley is 19, bride of Kenneth Pawley, an employee of the Asiatic Petroleum Co. at Tientsin.

Request To State Board Is Rejected

One Third of Surety Bonds Required by State Are Written by Firm

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Bonding firms represented by Rolph, Landis and Ellis of San Francisco have obtained $740,000 out of $2,100,000 in surety bond business required of California oil companies to insure their monthly gasoline tax payments, it was disclosed here today.

The American Bonding company, and the Fidelity and Deposit of Maryland, both represented by the San Francisco firm of which Governor Rolph's son, James Rolph III, is associated, have written 18 of the 60 oil company bonds on file with the state board of equalization.

Representatives of Rolph's firm were declared to have approached the board of equalization with a request that the board write letters to oil companies urging that their bond business be placed with the Rolph company.

This request was flatly turned down, it was asserted, as the equalization board is forbidden by law to interfere in any way with the method in which these bonds are posted.

Among the larger bond deals given to the Rolph firm were: General Petroleum, $100,000; Standard Oil $100,000; Union Oil company, $100,000; Western Oil, $100,000; Seaside $80,000, and St. Helena Petroleum company, $50,000.

CHARGES HURLED AT DOAK BY ATTORNEY

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Donald R. Richberg, Chicago, attorney for labor interests, made public today a telegram to Secretary of Labor William N. Doak, charging that in a conference on the anti-injunction bill, Doak asked if he would be interested in a federal judgeship.

Richberg also declared he went to Washington for the conference only because Doak told him it would be arranged by the direction of President Hoover. He added that Doak claimed he could block promotion of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to the appellate court which Richberg and other labor leaders were opposed.

The child, who is 4, also was given little chance to recover.

His brother, Francis, told reservation officials that Brown had been acting "queer" recently, seized with fits of frantic fear that the girl was to be snatched from him. The Indian's wife died a year ago.

ANOTHER OUTBREAK STAGED IN PRISON

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 20.—(UP)—Another outbreak, the seriousness of which could not be learned, occurred yesterday at Kingston penitentiary. Mayor C. G. Wright of Kingston told the United Press today.

Mayor Wright said Kingston prison officials at that time had asked him to have the local police and fire departments stand by "in case of emergency." They were not needed, he said, adding that he did not believe the disturbance lasted more than two hours.

Mayor Wright said even the Kingston city council had not yet been able to learn details of what occurred last Monday when at least two prisoners were injured in prolonged rioting.

SCHOOL HEAD OF REDONDO NOW SOUGHT

Police Convinced Superintendent Perpetrated Hoax in Disappearance

ORDER IS STATEWIDE

Theory That Thomas Kidnaped Abandoned Today and Hunt is Launched

REDONDO BEACH, Cal., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A statewide order for police to arrest and hold Elliot B. Thomas for investigation was broadcast by local authorities today as they branded the public school superintendent's mysterious disappearance a hoax.

Sheriff William L. Traeger sent a "hold" order over the statewide teletype system, asking authorities to detain Thomas for questioning on a technical charge of making a false report.

Three weeks ago, Thomas falsely reported to police that his home had been burglarized of clothing and personal effects, Capt. Norris Stensland said.

Discarding the theory that Thomas had been abducted by amateur robbers Monday night when he surprised them looting his office, officials said they had discovered evidence indicating he dropped from sight voluntarily.

They expressed no doubt but what he was alive, but were unable to assign any motive for his disappearance.

Capt. Norris Stensland of the sheriff's office said he had learned that Thomas, using the name of "E. T. Sherwood," had rented a garage and received mail at the home of Mrs. M. Witt in Los Angeles last month. He said that Mrs. Witt partially identified a picture of Thomas as that of the mysterious "Sherwood." Stensland believed that Thomas sped north in the same machine which he reportedly stored in the Witt garage, and which he told his wife he sold.

Mrs. Witt said most of the mail Sherwood received at her address was postmarked from Centralia, Wash., and Eugene, Ore.

The superintendent's disappearance was discovered by relatives who found his car, lights burning and engine idling, outside the school building, and his office a shambles, indicating he had put up a terrific struggle against supposed assailants.

FILM ACTOR HELD IN GIRL STABBING

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Charles Morton, film actor, was held as a material witness by police today following the stabbing of Rose Dona Wee-Lock, 23, motion picture actress, following a party in her apartment.

Morton, whose true name is Carl Mudge, 24, denied knowledge of the stabbing, but police declared he told conflicting stories of his presence at the party.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 20. (To the Editor of The Register.) You folks might think you are big folks up there as a nation, but you don't mean anything down here. I haven't seen one word of news printed about the United States since I left Brownsville, Tex., and that includes Spanish or any kind of paper. The Englishmen have got this country tied up tighter than Borah has Idaho. Has the election been called off, or just what has happened? The big news down here is the argument between Ireland and England. There is a big mess of both of 'em down here.

COURT ORDERS BOARD RETURN S. A. TEACHERS

Admittance To Jail Asked: Man Satisfied

Carl H. Lewis, 24, of 5223 El Rio, Los Angeles, with a suitcase in one hand and a jail commitment in the other, asked entrance to the county jail yesterday afternoon.

He got it. He's still there. He was found guilty of speeding in Judge Chris Pann's court yesterday, sentenced to serve five days in jail, and the judge handed him the commitment and told him to report to the jail.

Lewis said he was going 65 miles an hour at the time he was arrested.

Judge Superior Judge H. O. Ames on the local bench here, and ordered submitted on briefs. Today was the final day for the filing of briefs and the decision followed shortly after the final brief was received.

George Wells, president of the Santa Ana board of education, said this afternoon that he could not say whether or not the board will appeal from the decision of the superior court. He said that the board is scheduled to meet next Tuesday night and would probably reach a decision at that time.

MUSICAL PROGRAM FOR BREAKFASTERS

A program consisting entirely of musical numbers was featured at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club which was held this morning in Ketter's cafe with P. S. Fletcher acting as program chairman.

Sam Harrell and his daughter, La Verne Harrell, sang a group of vocal duets accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon. Miss Harrell also sang two vocal solos, which were exceptionally well received by members and guests of the club.

HENRY FORD IN RADIO ADDRESS BACKS HOOVER

"faced the enemy for three years now. He knows all the tactics of the forces of destruction. Why bring in a new recruit and retire this seasoned leader especially since President Hoover has already got the massive forces of defense and recovery into action?"

"I am not saying that Herbert Hoover can work miracles," Ford said. "I have known a number of presidents and I have never known one who could. Mr. Hoover is carrying a greater burden than Abraham Lincoln carried, and he is carrying it in a way that places him beside Lincoln in sacrificial service."

Ford declared improvement of the money system was the "next big job."

"I would like to see it done by a man of practical experience like Mr. Hoover," he declared. "Congress alone is given constitutional control of our entire money system. No private financial interest should have anything to do with it. The money question is coming to the front in this country, just as certain as can be, because the money question bears directly on our present difficulty."

He called on congress to take back full control of money and give the United States "a public service money system as opposed to a private profit money system."

"I am convinced," Ford declared, "that our money system is antiquated."

POLICE CHIEF IN WASHINGTON RESIGNS POST

from Washington. Later he contradicted an official report of Attorney General Mitchell that a large proportion of the bonus marchers had criminal records.

During these disputes there were repeated reports that Glassford would resign or be forced out as police chief. He stayed on, however, and turned his attention to reorganization of the force, long conceded to have been below par in efficiency.

The commissioners approved some change in personnel, but at a secret meeting with Glassford last night refused to sanction removal of Inspector Frank Burke as chief of detectives.

Glassford went home and immediately drafted his letter of resignation, effective Nov. 1. He planned to send it to the commissioners later today.

Glassford did not reveal his future plans. A versatile man, scholar, artist and expert motorcyclist as well as soldier, he retired from the army a few years ago because he found it "too dull and routine." He lived for a time on an Arizona ranch and became police chief on Nov. 15, 1931.

He condemned the bonus payment made by Calvin Coolidge in New York when the former president charged Roosevelt's silence was prolonging the depression.

Pledges Economy

Roosevelt anxious to assure the country that he is as solicitous for the credit of the nation as any man, not only pledged himself to a twenty-five percent reduction in government expenditures, to opposition to any increased expenditures except to relieve human suffering, but he pledged with his heaviest artillery at the fiscal record of the Hoover administration bringing jeers at the mention of Mr. Hoover and Pittsburgh's most famous citizen, former Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Roosevelt believed that in his Forbes field speech, he had struck one of the most effective blows of his campaign. He was applauded twice while making his bonus statement. He analyzed the administration handling of the deficit and accused President Hoover of not being frank with the country as to the real condition of the treasury, which he said faces another staggering deficit despite the claim that the administration balanced the budget.

He said Mellon's estimates of receipts and expenditures after 1929 constituted a "gamble on an economic miracle."

"I don't know what to call this kind of representation of that kind of fact," the Governor said, "but the name certainly is not candor." Roosevelt's bonus statement said:

Bonus Statement

"As a part of this phase of the problem I note that former President Coolidge is reported as having said in a speech in New York City:

"As soon as the Democratic platform pledges to enact into legislation modifying the Volstead act, a source of new revenue amounting to several hundred millions of dollars a year will be made available toward the balancing of the budget," he said.

"I refer specifically to a federal tax on beer, which would be raised through the sale of beer in those states and those states only which by state law allow the sale of beer."

"At the same time I reiterate the simple language of the Democratic platform which opposes the return of the saloon."

The Republican claims of a budget balanced by the administration despite a hostile congress are "not based on facts," Roosevelt said.

"The budget is not balanced and the whole job must be done over again in the next session of congress. Who is to blame for this new blunder? I cannot answer that question better than to refer you to the dispassionate review of the last session of congress made last Friday by my running mate, the speaker of the house, John Garner."

MERCHANTS PLAN MEMBER CAMPAIGN

Plans for a general membership meeting of the Merchants Division which will probably be held on November 9 were discussed at a meeting of the directors held last night in Chandler's Furniture store at Third and Main streets.

Chairman H. E. Willard announced that more than 300 invitations will be sent out to business men and merchants. It is planned to have several speakers to talk on better business and promotional activities.

The following new members were elected to the organization last night: Louis De Villiers and company, accountants; Mary A. Smart, photographer; Babe and Lyle, photographers; Model Laundry, A. J. Blomquist; N. E. Dunham, druggist; Maxine, Oliver L. Hulsell; Loyal K. King, Santa Ana Register; Dr. Vernon M. Blythe; C. E. Guard, druggist; I. W. Hawkins, department store, and Montgomery Ward and company.

Legion Cannon Moves To Reinhaus Home

Legion men are moving the little brass cannon again today.

This trip again takes it to the north end of the city where it will repose on the lawn of Stanley Reinhaus, prominent attorney.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Reinhaus at the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday. The cannon, symbol of new fatherhood for Legion men, will remain on the Reinhaus lawn until another member of the post becomes a "Daddy."

POLICE HALT 'OLD COUPON' RACKET HERE

Prompt action on the part of Santa Ana police stopped three solicitors who were said to be violating a city ordinance that prohibits peddling or selling on the streets of the city without a city license, according to Manager A. Cavalli of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce.

According to Cavalli, he was informed by several citizens that the men were soliciting for an out-of-town photographer in the "old coupon racket."

"Too much of this type of peddling has been going on in Santa Ana the past few years," Cavalli said today. "We have an excellent license inspector but he cannot cover the entire city. During the holidays we should put on another man to get the additional income that Santa Ana is losing each month through street and house to house selling, and offering all types of goods for sale."

"Yesterday a truck was selling hardware and machine supplies to garages. The driver told me he had no license and had been selling these garage men for years from Los Angeles headquarters."

tant exercise of power the state board of finance has bankrupted the treasury and discredited state government. California could well and wisely be governed by constitutional forms of government through which the government would be directly holding to the people.

"In fact it would be a popular form of government and eliminate bureaucratic control that has been developed like an octopus and grown fat and sleek through iniquitous political spoils."

Political observers at the state capitol interpreted this statement as a bid for the transfer of power from the state department of finance to the constitutional office of State Controller Ray L. Riley.

While Governor Rolph refused to comment on the possibility of a recall movement against him might be instituted by the state grange, he showed particular interest in the charge by the grange that the actions of the state department of agriculture in handling tuberculosis-infected cattle had resulted in losses to cattlemen and dairymen in California.

Declaring he was for agriculture "a million per cent," Rolph said he would demand an immediate explanation from Durley Moulton, director of agriculture.

The governor was scheduled to leave Sacramento today for a swing of northern California counties that will take him to six county seats before his return here Monday.

Rolph plans to visit Red Bluff and Redding today, Weaverville and Eureka Friday; Crescent City and Eureka Saturday, and return to Sacramento Sunday by way of Ukiah and Lakeport.

CLASS IN WORD USE OPENS HERE AT Y.M. TONIGHT

Men and women interested in better speech are invited to attend a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 7:30, for the organization of a class to study the use of words.

Secretary Ralph Smedley, who will conduct the study this evening, will present some tests and experiments intended to assist in determining the extent of the individual vocabulary, and will offer concrete suggestions for work to be done to increase vocabularies and improve selection of words. The outline for the course includes a study of words as to origin, meaning, spelling, pronunciation and correct use, together with consideration of the rules of grammar as applied to speech, and the effective use of the dictionary for improving speech.

Those who attend tonight are requested to bring note books. The class is open to all who are interested, and there is no charge for tuition.

H. ROY SMITH DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

H. Roy Smith, 60, for the past 40 years a resident of Santa Ana and Tustin, died at his home in Tustin on Prospect avenue at 9:30 o'clock this morning after having been stricken suddenly with a heart attack last night.

Well known in this vicinity, Smith owned considerable orange ranch property around Tustin. In the past he had been engaged in the fruit packing and shipping business until a few years ago. He was a member of the Santa Ana Elks lodge and the First Christian church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Flora J. Smith; two daughters, Mrs. Marion J. Hill, of Santa Ana and Mrs. Blanche Barker of San Diego, and one son, Thomas H. Smith, of Santa Ana.

Announcement of funeral services will be made public later by the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home.

Candidate Tells His Attitude On State Wright Act

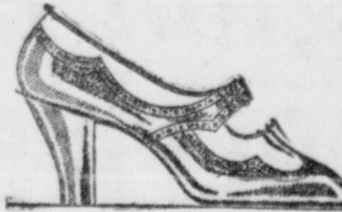

In answer to a question asked concerning his views on the Wright act, submitted at a bridge party held at the Highway Tea Gardens Tuesday afternoon, W. C. Jerome, candidate for supervisor said:

"My attitude is that I would just as soon be in the position of asking an officer to go arrest a criminal and then take the officer's six-shooter away from him, as to ask the officers of the state to enforce the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States and take away police powers delegated to them by the state to enforce the law.

"Many people regard it as a local matter, whereas it does not concern a member of the board of supervisors at all. We already had local option laws on the statute books of Santa Ana and Orange county in force before the nation went dry. If my observations are correct the county was drier under those local option laws than at the present time."

The California Fruit Growers Exchange

A Cooperative Marketing Organization
Owned by 13,203 Citrus Growers

NOT by chance has one growers' organization persisted and grown until its membership embraces three out of every four citrus growers in California and Arizona.

Without the California Fruit Growers Exchange the industry would never have survived the conditions existing at the time of its organization in 1893. Because of it, the industry has grown from practically nothing to California's second largest.

The aggregate figures of the citrus industry, today emphasize the need of responsible leadership as expressed by the Exchange.

Over half a billion dollars is invested in citrus properties in California and Arizona. Sixteen thousand growers own the quarter of a million acres planted to orange, lemon and grapefruit trees. 160,000 people are directly dependent on this industry for their livelihood.

The dominant position of the Exchange in this industry, places a serious responsibility on every Exchange grower and employee. They cannot act on "snap judgment" or resort to opportunist tactics. Their course must be one determined by sound judgment and careful weighing of the facts. Too much is at stake to follow a policy of expediency.

The Exchange, above all, cannot be content merely with taking the market as it finds it. It must go a step farther and do what no other marketing agency of lesser size can attempt to do: It must make the market.

Hence Exchange distribution has constantly been expanded, improved and perfected. Sunkist advertising has been employed to keep demand in harmony with production. Every forward-looking movement in the industry has been initiated by Exchange growers.

Exchange growers hold direct rein on the policies and administration of their marketing organization. They know that its destiny depends wholly upon the service the Exchange renders its membership and its customers.

The Exchange stands solely on its ability to serve the true interests of the industry better than any existing agency. Today, more than ever, it merits and needs the active support of all growers, bankers, business men, and the public in general. From their united efforts will result better control of distribution, more energetic merchandising and increased consumer demand.

McAdoo Will Talk in Santa Ana Tonight

Democratic leaders of Santa Ana were expecting to fill the auditorium of the Santa Ana high school tonight when William Gibbs McAdoo, Democratic candidate for United States senator, will make his final vote-getting address in Orange county prior to the election. The talk is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

On a tour of the country today, which started at La Habra early this morning, big crowds were greeting the candidate at every city, and Paul Winter, mayor of Santa Ana, who has charge of the tour, stated at noon today that the Democrats here were more than pleased with the reception McAdoo was getting.

Democratic candidates for office living in this county were with the nominee on his tour today, including D. G. Wetlin, candidate for state senate; Robert R. Taylor, Frank Harwood, candidates for the assembly from the two Orange county districts; and other Democratic leaders from a number of cities in the county.

Outlining the issues of the campaign and urging support for the Democratic ticket, McAdoo addressed audiences in various Orange county cities today, starting with an address at 10 o'clock at La Habra.

From La Habra he went to Brea, Buena Park and Garden Grove, with a crowd of several hundred persons hearing him speak at the latter place. Following lunch, the candidate gave an address at the Anaheim theater. He spoke in an Orange theater during the afternoon and was scheduled to give talks in Laguna Beach and Newport Beach.

McAdoo will be guest of honor at a dinner at McFarland's cafe at 6:30 o'clock tonight, and shortly after 7 o'clock is scheduled to speak at the Wilshire school auditorium. Following that address he will speak in Santa Ana.

DEMOCRATS TO MAKE COUNTY TOUR FRIDAY

County Democratic headquarters today had completed arrangements for a tour of Orange county by a sound truck which will be here tomorrow, it was announced today by J. G. Mitchell, chairman of the county central committee.

The sound truck is sponsored by the Progressive Roosevelt-Garner clubs of Southern California, whose membership is partly composed of prominent Republicans and Progressives, according to A. D. Comito, headquarters manager.

The truck will stop at various cities in the county when short talks will be made by prominent Republicans who are now supporting Roosevelt. It was announced.

A stop will be made at La Habra at 11 a. m., Fullerton at 12 o'clock noon, Anaheim at 2:30 p. m., Orange at 5 p. m., after which the caravan accompanying the truck will make an official visit to county Democratic headquarters at the corner of Second and Main streets in Santa Ana. Voters will be given an opportunity to hear local candidates as well as other talks at the meeting here which is planned for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN $10,000 SUIT

Deliberating since 4:24 p. m., yesterday a jury in department three had not reached a decision at noon today in the suit of R. H. Moore, 72-year-old Yorba Linda man, against Carl H. Seamans. Moore is suing Seamans for $10,000 alleging that Seamans swore to an insanity complaint against him and caused him to be held under observation at the county hospital for four days, early this morning. Moore, in his complaint, declared that at the expiration of the four day observation period the court discharged him after a sanity hearing.

Seamans in his own defense declared that he signed the complaint against Moore at the advice of an attorney. He said that he had been appointed guardian for the property of a brother of Moore, Moore, he alleged, was under the hallucination that the property belonged to him and ordered Seamans away from the property, threatening to kill him.

Bids On New H. B. Post Office Site Opened Shortly

Bids on sites for the new Huntington Beach post office will be opened by Inspector Newman at Huntington Beach November 17, according to word received from Washington.

The building will cost approximately $30,000. The site must contain 24,500 square feet of space. In submitting bids for consideration, owners must state the size, price, location and give other details, it was stated today.

The building will be erected by the treasury department, which is requesting bids on sites in 13 other California cities.

It is believed that actual construction work on the Huntington Beach post office will get under way in January.

FIRST INSTALLMENT TAXES DUE NOV. 1; 60,000 BILLS TOTALING $5,871,045 READY

Approximately 60,000 tax bills will be placed in the mail starting November first, covering taxes for the fiscal year 1932-33, according to Tax Collector John Lamb. The total amount of taxes to be collected this year is $5,871,045.71, Lamb reports.

First installment taxes are due November first and must be paid by December 5 or go delinquent. Lamb said that the tax money must be in his office, and not just in the mail on December 5. He also urged that property owners check their bills carefully this year and if the first installment can be paid make the payment promptly and not wait until the last few days of grace. Lamb is expecting a late minute rush of property owners and is urging early payment to prevent as much congestion as possible.

In spite of the economic conditions and forecasts of large delinquencies in tax payments this year, Lamb expects that payment will be made promptly on all legitimate property. The total delinquencies this year will be on property that is overburdened with street assessments beyond their value and on lots for which exorbitant prices were paid during the boom, he anticipates.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

Three smiling Republican faces are behind the political horizon which you see now. They are Calvin Coolidge, Ogden Mills and Theodore Roosevelt.

They will be in evidence even more prominently after election day if anything happens to Mr. Hoover. Theirs will be the task of taking charge of any reorganization of the party that may be necessary.

The matter has already been the subject of conversation by some far-sighted old-guardians in the ranks. They want to be ready for any eventuality. They realize this is not the last election that is ever going to be held in this country.

Mr. Coolidge will be cast in the elder statesman role. Mills will be told the inheritance of the Hoover strength out on the fighting front. Young T. R. will head the younger element and also furnish the name value.

You hear increasing talk in high places about a Mills-Roosevelt ticket for 1936.

That is a good possibility even if Mr. Hoover wins.

GARNER
Some Republicans are in a frenzy at the way Speaker Garner has voluntarily submitted to muzzling. These strategists had deep-laid plans to use Garner in their campaign business. They talked about how they would make him angry out on the stump and thereby cause him to say something they could use against him. Campaigns have been won with less strategy.

Garner has crossed them by refusing to play.

His tactics are not surprising to those who know him. He rarely spoke in the House or in his Congressional campaigns. In this situation he realizes he is the vulnerable man.

SKILL
Non-partisans closely associated with Gov. Roosevelt during the campaign say he is one of the smartest politicians to come down the pike in this era.

They score him 99 per cent in practical politics during the western swing. The only error they give him was when he stopped off at Colorado Springs to see the brother of Boies Penrose. The brother supported Al Smith in 1928 but was not there when Roosevelt dropped in. He supports Hoover now.

These men have seen both Roosevelt and Smith work. They say Smith lacked Roosevelt's dexterity in the national game.

The suggestion also is made that the White House job may be one for a politician and not a business executive or a dictator.

SHIFTS
It is impossible to tell accurately how many votes the Republican drive is changing.

The Des Moines and Coolidge speeches were followed by general Republican approbation. Party workers were cheered. But it was not evident nationally that any great number who opposed the President previously were won over by these developments.

This uncertainty may exist until the last minute. The polls will offer no guide. Most of their votes are in.

The opinion is general among politicians that the underlying sentiment of the country cannot now be changed by speeches. That also will be disclosed on election day.

INAUGURATION
A prominent administration official has confidentially informed friends he will retire January 1, if Roosevelt is elected. That has started a wave of inside talk that the Administration will work out a way of abdicating in Roosevelt's favor on that date if he should win.

Nothing can be said definitely about that matter until after election. But if Roosevelt wins—remember the date January 1.

BEER
On the Q. T. the brewers are making all preparations for real beer by March 4.

They figure on 3 1/4 or 4 per cent palliative. They believe the legislation will authorize sales like ginger ale now in drug stores, etc. They expect their best business in package deliveries to the homes.

The old saloon is outside all their calculations. They do not believe the legislation will even permit beer gardens.

NOTES
Progress in the World Economic conference now depends largely on whether Mr. Hoover is re-elected. . . . The experts will meet on the agenda in London late this month. . . . The arrangements committee, however, will NOT forego their stump till after our elections. . . . The indefinite indications are the conference will start around Dec. 1.

Mr. Hoover's Des Moines radio hookup cost $48,000. . . . They left the South out of it but Florida insisted on getting in. . . . The National Committee paid $800 additional for that purpose. . . . The Sen. Glass statement on the gold standard was the best written document in this or any recent political campaign. . . . Mr. Coolidge was precisely correct in his gold standard argument. . . .

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

MONEY
The reduction of the New York call loan rate to one per cent is a lot more significant than it looks on the surface. It means that the pressure of excess reserves has become so great that the banks were no longer able to maintain a pegged rate of two per cent.

EXPANSION
This indicates in turn that inflation through credit expansion is definitely on the way. It may not take the form of direct loans to business. But the understanding is that the Treasury can increase its borrowings considerably on behalf of the R. F. C. without any objection from the banks.

The hope is that the R. F. C. will now be encouraged to grant bigger and better loans for relief and construction purposes. The banks want to invest and would rather invest in governments than anything else. They are prepared to take the position that what the Government does with the money is none of their affair. This is in marked contrast to the hue and cry about Federal relief a few months ago. . . .

BANKS
New York banks belonging to the Clearing House Assn. are having an argument among themselves as to whether they should abolish the half of one per cent interest now paid on demand deposits. The biggest banks are against the change, so it probably won't be made. They figure that large depositors who left their money on tap when financial conditions were at their worst deserve a break now. . . .

EARNINGS
In spite of pessimistic reports reliable estimates show that American Telephone will probably have net third quarter earnings of $1.80 a share. . . .

DIVIDENDS
Thirty companies listed on the Big Board are still paying as much or more in dividends than they did in 1929. The list includes several gold mining stocks and one railroad (Chesapeake and Ohio). Nine or ten of these companies are no longer earning their dividends so there may be a cut in the list in the near future. Five companies—tobacco and foods—are paying higher dividends than they did three years ago. . . .

CITY
The city budget scrap shows some deft political maneuvering in preparation for the 1933 election. McKee is in the position of the defender of the public purse. Tammany must make a choice between an economy program which would alienate thousands of city workers or else face a determined battle from united civic organizations. Curry is on the spot either way. Controller Berry's brief splash as headman of the Board of Estimates about at an end. . . .

Future plans on both sides of the fence are being held in abeyance until the voting strength is recorded. Flynn's Bronx and McCooey's Brooklyn are far in the lead on registration. Curry's Manhattan is lagging which will not increase his influence in city councils. Copyright, 1932, McClure News'r Syn.

COLLINS SPEAKS AT INDIO TODAY

District Attorney Sam L. Collins, Republican candidate for congress in the nineteenth district, spoke this noon before the Exchange club at Indio and tonight is scheduled to address a mass meeting of voters in the high school auditorium at Palm Springs.

The Orange county district attorney filled two speaking engagements last night, appearing first before a mass meeting in the high school auditorium in Perris and then hurrying to a meeting of service men held in the I. O. O. F. hall at Hemet. Collins workers said he was being received enthusiastically by all his audiences.

The candidacy of the district attorney for the congressional seat from this district was endorsed today by J. P. Baumgartner, who declared Collins was well fitted for the duties and opportunities of this post.

Harbor District Republicans Aid Roosevelt, Garner

Organization of the Republican Progressive Club for Roosevelt and Garner in the Newport harbor district was announced today, with Harry H. Williamson as president and Harry Estus as secretary-treasurer.

Newport headquarters are located at Twenty-second street and Coast boulevard. Ballbox offices are at 703 East Central avenue.

A rally will be staged at the Osgood dance hall at Newport beach next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with R. H. McGinnis, of San Diego, as the principal speaker. A parade will be staged next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock starting at Newport Beach.

It was claimed today that the new organization has over 500 members.

A COLD PASSES THRU 3 STAGES!

It is Twice as Easily Stopped in the First as in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold passes through three stages—the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Once it gets beyond the Dry Stage it is far more difficult to relieve. Therefore, treat a cold promptly.

The best thing you can take is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, because it does the four things necessary, in the way required. It opens the bowels. Kills the germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and grippiness feeling. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the relief you want—complete, thorough and decisive! Trust to nothing less.

Effective as it is, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is absolutely safe to take. No narcotics. No bad after-effects of any kind. Relief with comfort! The whole world knows Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine as the standard cold tablet. Comes in handy, pocket size box, cellophane wrapped. Get it at any drug store. There is nothing "just as good."

John J. Paul, of 821 East Fifth street, arrested here on October 8, on a charge of petty theft, in connection with the asserted taking of collections, was found not guilty in Judge J. G. Mitchell's court today.

The complaining witness was Jacob Wilk, of 1966 Brooklyn avenue, Los Angeles.

Arrest Delhi Man On Liquor Count

Agapito Cardona, 32, laborer, of 1019 Custer street, was arrested by Santa Ana police officers last night at his home after they are asserted to have found a small amount of beer in his possession. He was released to come to court this afternoon after a woman admitted that the beer was hers, police said.

Wife Was Fat No Longer Attractive

Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper of April 4 in connection with a divorce trial that has attracted wide attention. "She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do.

If you are fat how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and acquire a clean, clear skin and eyes that sparkle with buoyant health?

And gain in energy and activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for 30 days. You can help the action of Kruschen by cutting down on pastry and fatty meats and going light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

Kruschen Salts are a blend of 6 mineral salts most helpful to body health. Best of all, a bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last you for 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Ask McCoy Drug Co.—two stores—or any druggist for a bottle and start to lose fat today.

It's the safe way to reduce but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first and remember this if you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back—Adv.

EXPECTATIONS OF YOUTH TO BE DISCUSSED

The first of a lecture course series which has been arranged through the co-operation of the adult education department and the Parent-Teachers associations of the high schools and junior college will be given in the high school auditorium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston.

The speaker will be Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, commonly known as the "Mother Goose Woman." She will discuss "The New Generation—Its Demands," or "What Young Folks Expect of Parents."

Mrs. Paulsen has had extensive training in kindergarten work in the Iowa State Teacher's college and the Teacher's College of Columbia university. Aside from her many years of public schools and on Chautauqua platforms, she has also developed an intimate sympathetic understanding of children from the standpoint of a mother, it was said.

"Mrs. Paulsen comes here highly recommended," Mrs. Weston said, "she not only knows children, she knows human nature. Everyone who hears her will be more successful in their dealings with flappers and youths as well as with fathers and mothers. Her lecture will be brimful of facts and helpful suggestions. The lecture is free and every person who is interested in better living and happier homes is most welcome."

Jumbo and Jenny Join In Boosting President Race

"Jumbo" a tiny toy rat terrier owned by Joe Warner of Hollywood and "Jenny," a mule which was used to draw the "mystery car" which was unveiled yesterday, never saw each other until yesterday when they met in Santa Ana, but they soon became fast friends for they discovered they had mutual interests.

"Jumbo" who is a Hollywood movie dog, is a veteran pipe smoker and goes about all the time with a pipe in his mouth. He wears a tiny hat which has printed on it, "Vote for Roosevelt."

The mutual interest discovered by the two animals is a political affinity. Both are booming Roosevelt for president of the United States.

The wagon pulled by "Jenny" is termed a "Hoover car," 1932 model, by the Orange County Democratic committee which put the vehicle in the field as a pre-campaign stunt. The car was formerly an old automobile from which the engine and front part was removed.

"The Wet Parade," a four-act drama by Upton Sinclair, will be presented by the Drama Club of Riverside, Thursday night, October 27 at 7:30 p. m. in the Frances Willard Junior High school auditorium at the corner of Ross street and Washington avenue, it was announced today.

The presentation of the drama in Santa Ana will be under the auspices of the Orange County Christian Endeavor society. No admission charge will be made but an offering will be taken up later in the evening during the performance.

Anaheim Man Is Held to Answer

Barney Hultrom, Anaheim man, arrested on October 2, charged with burglary, was today held to answer to the superior court from Judge Charles Kuchel's Anaheim justice court.

The man is alleged to have been the burglar who several weeks ago entered and robbed the home of the Rev. J. Leister, at which time several floor lamps and batteries were stole.

Stronger than He Was at Twenty

FIFTY-FIVE years old, and still going strong!

Do you want the secret of such vitality? It isn't what you eat, or any tonic you take. It's something anyone can do—something you can start today and see results in a week! All you do is give your vital organs the right stimulant.

A famous doctor discovered the way to stimulate a sluggish system to new energy. It brings fresh vigor to every organ. Being a physician's prescription, it's quite harmless. Tell your druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Get the benefit of its fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and that pure pepsin. Get that lazy liver to work, those stagnant bowels into action. Get rid of waste matter that is slow poison so long as it is permitted to remain in the system.

The new energy men and women feel before one bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin has been used up is proof of how much the system needs this help.

Get a bottle of this delicious syrup and let it end that constant worry about the condition of the bowels. Spare the children those bilious days that make them miserable. Save your household from the use of cathartics which lead to chronic constipation. And guard against auto-intoxication as you grow older.

Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin is such a well known preparation you can get it wherever drugs are sold and it isn't expensive.

FOUNDING OF TOASTMASTERS IS CELEBRATED

Marking the completion of eight years of service in the cause of better speeches, the Santa Ana Toastmasters club last night staged a demonstration program in the presence of their ladies which indicated something of the value of their work.

This popular organization had its beginning in Santa Ana on October 22, 1924, when the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A., of which J. P. Baumgartner was chairman, called a group together to form a club. Toastmasters clubs had been a part of the regular program of secretary R. C. Smedley for many years, the idea having been used by him in his work for men in various communities, but the success of the Santa Ana Toastmasters attracted attention and led to the initiation of similar organizations in various cities, at first in Southern California, and more recently in many parts of the world. Two years ago "Toastmasters International" was organized and at present there are some 60 clubs in existence, all acknowledging their debt to Santa Ana for their origin.

A. G. Green, president of the Santa Ana club, presided at last night's meeting, and welcomed the guests, who included not only the ladies, but a number of past members of the club.

William H. Wright was toastmaster of the evening. Musical numbers were provided by Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Grover, and Mrs. Marjorie Grover, of Long Beach. Mrs. A. A. Brock extended greetings from the Ladies Forum, a sister organization.

The ideals of the organization were discussed by R. C. Smedley, who spoke of the origin and the service rendered by Toastmasters clubs during the past 25 years. Dr. Edward Lee Russell presented a clever study of "The Good Old Times," directing his attention especially to changes in health conditions and handling of sanitation in modern times.

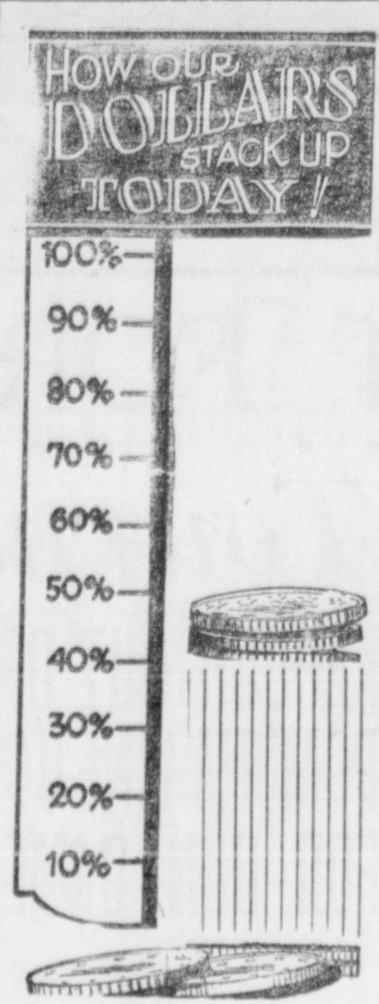

America's interest in the stability of affairs in Europe was forcibly presented by James Anderson, who pointed out that prosperity in our land was largely dependent on peace and prosperity in other nations, a statement which he illustrated from current news. Dr. C. J. Ruley gave an entertaining talk on "Facts About Women," which was probably as enlightening to the ladies as to the men. Arthur Woodworth acted as general critic for the program.

Decorations suggestive of the approach of Halloween made the tables attractive. Mrs. Dean Campbell and Mrs. D. H. Tibbals had arranged the decorations, and were the recipients of many compliments on their artistic work.

Officers of the club, which meets every Wednesday evening at Kettner's cafe, are A. G. Green, president, Dr. E. L. Russell, vice-president, D. H. Tibbals, secretary-treasurer, and R. Carson Smith, sergeant-at-arms. The membership is limited to 30 men, and the roster is usually filled, with some names on the waiting list. It is carried on under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. with which it has been connected from the beginning, and is serving a splendid purpose in helping men to discover their latent abilities as speakers.

Beach Man Finds Dead Carrier

Louis J. Bushard, of Huntington Beach, Route No. 1, reported to the sheriff's office today that he found a dead carrier pigeon in his yard. The bird dropped from exhaustion, he said and his cat got it.
He rescued the bird's number, however, which was M. P. C. 32. Moline, Ill., 7109 Schayer, Laurel Canyon road, L. A. Cal., 5713-222.

GETS $500 FINE ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Tony Comachio, Delhi Mexican, arrested in a raid by city and county officers last Saturday night, yesterday was sentenced to spend 250 days in the county jail or pay a fine of $500 on a charge of possession of beer.

Officers reported they found 10 quarts of beer in his house when the place was raided on a search warrant.

He was sentenced by Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison yesterday after having pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday.

CHEST REPORTS LAGGING; ASK BETTER EFFORT

With reports lagging from many captains in the business and residential districts and returns being held up because of unavoidable delays in other major departments of the welfare and relief fund campaign, the total subscribed and reported to headquarters up to last night still hung slightly below 50 per cent of the goal of $33,000.

"Unfortunately hungry men and women, sick and needy children and the other thousands aided through the Community Chest cannot wait, regardless of other matters which may delay the progress of our campaign," W. J. Tway, campaign chairman and Community Chest president, said today, in urging that each one of the 500 volunteer workers today make it their personal responsibility to cover as much of their territory as possible and bring in at least a report on their activities to date.

"We know that the total reached thus far is a great deal more than the headquarters blackboard shows, but we are not able to give the reports until the workers file their returns. Returns, whether complete or not, should be brought to the Chest headquarters, Third and Sycamore, each day not later than 5 o'clock. If this is done then and then only will we be able to regulate the campaign to insure the best possible returns."

Ask Renewed Efforts
The executive committee of the campaign reports that it is absolutely essential that at least 75 per cent of the appeal goal be reached by Monday morning. In order that this can be done members of the advance gifts committee are being asked to renew their efforts to secure pledges from a sizable group of large givers who for one reason or another have been delaying making their subscriptions.

"We have asked all of the workers and now we want to ask the public to remember that the pledges this year must be larger from each person because the campaign is serving a dual purpose," Mrs. Paul Bailey, vice chairman of the campaign, declared. "Again, let us repeat that persons who subscribe to the full extent of their ability, will not be asked again through the Chest either to aid with unemployment relief or other social service activities, however those who do not do a full share certainly must expect to be called upon through one source or another."

Miss Mabel McFadden, chairman for the residential department, reports that with only eight of the 36 captains filing returns yesterday, that the women's section of the appeal reached better than 10 per cent of its quota for the first day. The chairman has asked that all captains today contact their workers and get reports in today on progress, in the hope that the total for the residential can be brought up to at least one-third of the division quota.

Women Leaders
The residential unit working under Mrs. Leta Morton and Miss Margery Lusk took the lead in the residential department first report, reaching over 50 per cent of the quota set for the unit. These workers are serving as division vice chairman and in addition are covering one of the individual units in the appeal.

The business department reports turned in yesterday served to bring the total for this division to about 15 per cent of the quota. The reports thus far made by the men's section have all been encouraging.

NOW'S THE TIME

Contributed by Leo Thiele, who draws the well-known wise-cracker, "Sex Hugh."

It is said but the difficulty has been delay in making reports on the part of the bulk of the captains. The division headed by J. S. Hill is in the lead, with the showing of Captain M. B. Youel's teams making the outstanding reports.

The establishments department of the campaign continued yesterday to hold the outstanding leadership of the seven major divisions of the campaign. With the exception of bank employees groups, which are still incomplete, firm employees which have been reported upon have all done better thus far than in any previous years.

In the reports yesterday, the employees of the Santa Ana Laundry company established a new record for the present appeal. This group subscribed 100 per cent and gave a total of five times that given last year.

The cards from the public library and the city hall offices have shown so well this year, that both units have been awarded an Honor standing. None of the county employees groups have reported yet.

Main reports from the telephone company, gas company and some divisions of the electric corporation employees cannot be had until Monday, according to Barry McPhee, chairman of the utilities employees department of the Chest appeal. The one division of the utilities group which thus far, has failed to meet the present emergency community responsibility is that termed transportation, according to Chest headquarters.

DONATIONS OF STOVES ASKED BY UNEMPLOYED

A dance and entertainment in the form of a social gathering will take place in the headquarters of the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana on North Main street tonight following a brief business meeting which will start at 7 o'clock. It was announced today by William Ruddiman.

Singing, dancing and other forms of entertainment will be presented on the program. The orchestra formed by members of the Unemployment association will provide the music for the dance.

Members of the association will attend an important meeting scheduled to be held in the local unemployed headquarters at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when a joint meeting of all unemployed groups in Orange county gather to discuss important business. The most important business item to be discussed is the furtherance of a plan to work with other counties in Southern California in the exchange of food commodities to the benefit of all concerned, Ruddiman said.

The local unemployed group is now badly in need of a light car to be used for making contacts with places where food can be obtained. The loan of such a car would be greatly appreciated by officials of the organization. Donations of gasoline are also needed at the present time.

Another direct and immediate need, with cold weather which has been prevalent during the past few nights, is for quantity of wood stoves for members and families of the association that have no means of heating their homes with their gas turned off through inability to pay their bills, Ruddiman announced.

SANTA ANA POLICE SEEK MISSING GIRL

Santa Ana police were today investigating the disappearance from her home yesterday afternoon of three year old Lois Virginia Owens, from 202 West Washington avenue.

The child was playing near the house, when suddenly she disappeared. The mother, Mrs. Virginia Owens, thinking perhaps her estranged husband, who lives in Phoenix, Ariz., took the child, she told officers, and police are today checking through Phoenix police.

The couple have not been divorced. The little girl is a blond, weighs 27 pounds and has bright blue eyes.

Electricity is Cheap!

Edison Rates Reduced 8 Times In 10 Years

Now 42 Per Cent Less than You Paid in 1921

If YOU ARE an average Edison customer you are using 71 per cent more electricity in your home today than you did in 1925. You probably haven't noticed this great increase in your use of electricity for the simple reason that your Edison bills have not increased with this greater consumption of current. For Edison has been reducing its rates all through this period.

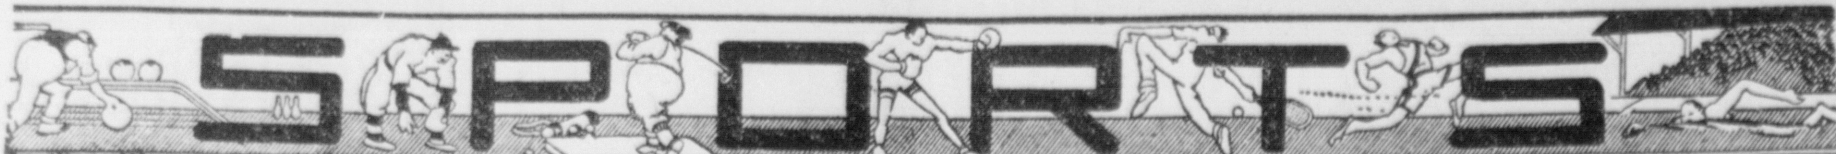

During the last ten years while other costs were rising, Edison has voluntarily lowered its electric rates eight times. You can use electricity in your home today for dozens of household conveniences unheard of ten years ago, and still pay no more for current than you did then.

You Can Use Your Vacuum Cleaner 4 Hours for One Cent

To operate your vacuum cleaner four hours costs only a penny. At this small cost electricity enables you to do in a short time what a whole day's hard labor would not do with old fashioned methods.

PASADENA GAME REAL TEST FOR HI SQUAD

Stoefen, Mako Enter Tennis Tournament Here

BIG SANTA ANA TOURNAMENT OPENS SATURDAY A. M.

With an entry list of 81 in six different singles and doubles events, including such nationally known celebrities as Lester Stoefen, Gene Mako, Elbert Lewis, Helen Marlowe and Ruby Bishop, the first Santa Ana Tennis Championship—beginning here Saturday—promises to surpass the greatest expectations of Santa Ana Tennis club officials who are sponsoring the tournament.

Members of the tournament committee, including President Gilmore Ward and Secretary John Creek, met tonight to draw up a schedule.

Secretary Creek reports that 25 entries have been received for men's singles alone. There are 12 men's doubles teams, 10 mixed doubles combinations, 7 in women's singles, 20 in junior boys' singles and 8 in junior girls' play.

Play On Willard Courts

The tournament will be conducted on the Willard Courts.

The Frances Willard junior high school courts at North Ross and Fifteenth streets, with competition starting at 8 a. m. Saturday, continuing all day Saturday and Sunday of this week-end, with quarter-finals, semi-finals and finals listed the following Saturday and Sunday.

Stoefen, nationally ranked star, is the outstanding entrant although he will be only slightly favored over young Mako, sensational University of Southern California freshman from Glendale, and Lewis, former captain of the U. C. L. A. netters.

Stoefen, Mako and Lewis all campaigned in Eastern tournaments last summer. Stoefen reached the quarter-finals of National singles play before losing to Elsworth Vines. One of Stoefen's victims was Jiroh Satoh, Japanese Davis cupper who has beaten Vines thrice, every time they have met. Incidentally, Stoefen has beaten Vines several times.

Mako Promising Youth
Just a year out of prep school, Mako is considered one of America's outstanding young tennis players. He won the junior championships at the recent Pacific Southwest tournament in Los Angeles, beating Jack Lynch in the finals. Only Frankie Parker is rated a better prospect than the tall, blond Mako.

Other notable singles entrants include Carl Busch, veteran Long Beach star; Homer Hutton, Long Beach city champion; Johnny Aliman, Pomona college No. 1 player, and Jess Millman, Los Angeles playground expert. Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana high school youth, will be the lone local representative in this outstanding field.

The Misses Marlowe and Bishop are conceded the edge in the women's division. Miss Marlowe will play mixed doubles with Mako. Miss Bishop with the giant Stoefen. Mildred Ward of Santa Ana is paired with Carl Busch, Long Beach.

All matches will be open to the public.

Brea-Olinda, Anaheim To Meet Friday

The Orange league football spotlight focuses on Anaheim again tomorrow when Dick Glover's Anaheim Colonists oppose "Shorty" Smith's Brea-Olinda Wildcats in one of the most important games of the county season.

A real threat for the conference title, Anaheim has beaten Orange and Tustin on successive Fridays and rates as one of the three undefeated schools in the race. Brea-Olinda and Garden Grove being the others. Brea-Olinda opened with a 20-0 decision over little Newport Harbor, and will be an even choice to turn back the Glover machine. The Wildcats play hard football and it will take a real team to beat them. Garden Grove, the real surprise of the year, meets Leon Miner's Huntington Beach eleven at Garden Grove. The Peppers are favored to win this one, maintain their perfect standing.

Tustin and Orange, out of the running with successive defeats by Garden Grove and Anaheim, play for consolation honors on the Tustin gridiron. The contest is a standoff.

San Juan Capistrano and Newport Harbor collide at Newport Heights. These are the "baby members" of the circuit and for the first time face opponents on common ground without handicap.

IS 'POP' WARNER LOOKING TOWARD U. S. C.?

MILLER TO SEE FRIDAY SPEED CARD AT BOWL

A new celebrity has been attracted and will invade the motorcycle firmament in Southern California. It was learned today, when officials of Santa Ana Municipal Bowl announced that Harry Miller, builder of the world's fastest racing cars, intends to be a spectator tomorrow night when 40 of the world's greatest "bike" riders compete for golden glory in a list of 19 events here.

All of the regular favorites of the fans, including Cordy Milne, "Bo" Lisman, Wilbur Lameroux, Dick Springstern, Minky Wain and Ray Grant are entered.

Miller, whose mechanical genius has been so pronounced that he has literally run other car builders off the American speedway plans to build a machine which is expected to include all of the compositions of dynamite and T. N. T. With an idea of designing this motorbike along lines that will make it practical for the Southern California chain of tracks, he plans to attend the Friday race meet at the Bowl.

Practically every car in the outstanding events at Asot Speedway are manufactured by Miller and the winning machines at Indianapolis for several years have been his creations. The invasion of Miller into the short track racing game means that America is to have a builder who will threaten the supremacy attained by the English Ridges and Douglas as ridden by the world's champion, "Sprouts" Eider.

Miller's races will be unique inasmuch as it will be the first speed session held under the banner of the new Motorcycle Track Owners' Association of Southern California. This organization was formed at a meeting at Long Beach and is restricted to the four tracks in San Diego, Santa Ana, Long Beach and White Sox park, Los Angeles. Floyd Clymer, Jack Henderson and Norman Harford of the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl are officials of this new combine.

The general idea of the association is to promote increased interest in the game but develop new riders and thwart any possibility of outside and expensive competition, which might run the popular sport into the status of miniature golf courses.

KEOUGH OUT OF POMONA LINE UP FOR DON GAME

There will be no Jack Keough, sensational quarterback, in Pomona junior college's lineup against Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons at Poly field Saturday, reports from Pomona revealed today.

Coach Ira Van Cleave's Cosacks, undefeated after two conference starts, received their hardest possible blow in practice this week when Keough, brilliant safety around whom Pomona had wrapped virtually its entire offensive, broke his collarbone. He is out for the season, the report said.

It was Keough, brother of the well-known "Zeke," former Chaffey star, who carried the ball 90 yards for Pomona's winning touchdown over Riverside, 12 to 6, at Riverside Saturday. It was Keough who made substantial gains through and around the Tiger line, who passed Riverside dizzy, and whom Coach Cook, scouting the game for Santa Ana, declared was perhaps the outstanding man on the field. It was Keough on whom Pomona was banking to defeat Santa Ana here Saturday afternoon.

Wade replaced Keough in drill yesterday, and is scheduled to open at quarter against the Dons. W. Mansfield, fullback; V. Raley and Grady, halfbacks, complete the Cosack backfield.

The regular line combination standing up well against Chaffey and Riverside, Coach Van Cleave plans to start Shawman and Clayton, ends; Hesse and Kling, tackles; Edmundson and P. Mansfield, guards; and Captain Rightmeyer, center, against Santa Ana.

Two Santa Ana regulars—Fred Bell at inside half and Wally Smith at full—have missed the past three days at drill on account of shoulder and rib injuries, respectively, and it looks as if Captain Jack Fredericks, guard, will replace Bell in the backfield, and that Harold Welty, quarter, will be shifted to Smith's position at full.

Bill Bouldin, former Anaheim Hi star, probably will start at safety. Hideo Higashi will be at right half.

Drills today and tomorrow will determine whether Jim Daneri will start at full, Welty at quarter instead of Bouldin.

GEORGE GIBSON TO MANAGE BUGS AGAIN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—(UP)—George Gibson, who led the Pittsburgh National league baseball club to second place in the 1932 pennant race, has signed a contract to continue as manager of the Pirates in 1933.

Gibson, for 11 years a major league catcher, signed the contract late yesterday after officials of the club conferred with him. Terms of the agreement were not revealed.

Gibson intimated the Pirates may make some changes in the club through trades this winter.

"We have a number of really good players we would be willing to part with in the event they could be exchanged for the men we would like to get," he said.

REGISTER EXPERTS PROPHECY TROY TRIUMPH

Southern California over Stanford! That's the consensus of The Register's football "eggheads" this week. Four of the six prognosticators prophesy a Trojan triumph. One thinks it will be a tie. One picks Stanford.

Paul Wright is still leading The Register's Football Scores Guessing Contest with 1257 points. Eddie West is second with 1262, Coach "Tex" Oliver third with 1302, Coach Bill Cook has 1335, Coach Bill Foote 1368, Coach Clyde Patton 1512.

So far contestants have tried 50 games, of which 8 have ended in ties. Wright has picked 33 winners, West 32, Cook 31, Foote 30, Patton and Oliver 27. Those who have picked exact scores are Oliver and Patton 2, Foote and Cook 1.

First Play Of High School Slated For Nov. 10

'SHOW SHOP' TO BE PRESENTED NOVEMBER 10

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—The first play of the year to be given by Orange Union High school students will be on November 10 in the high school auditorium. The play to be given is "The Show Shop." Rehearsals are well under way under the direction of F. L. Carrier, head of the drama department.

The cast for "The Show Shop" is as follows: "Sadie," Jane Crawford; "Wilbur Tompkins," Bob Blanchard; "Jerome Belden," Gerald Schick; "Max Rosenbaum," Albert Clark; "John Brinkley," Ernest Donelson; "Betty Dean," Julia Grace Mahoney; night clerk, Ernest Wagner; "Mr. Billings," Bill Hart; "Mrs. Dean," Dorothy Coe; "Effie Brinkley," Beulah Davis; "Granny Smith," LeRoy Zetter.

A scene painter, James Elliott; "Maggins," Eldon Johnson; "A. Goldman," Irene Malin; "Hickson," Janet Welty; "Steve," Mahel Lawson; "Miss Donahue," Reba Myracle; "Miss Farrington," Grace Peterson; "Miss Toby," Hattie Stump; "Walters," Eva Walworth.

The other play which has been cast is "The Argyle Case," to be given December 9. The roles have been assigned as follows: "Asher Kayton," Clarence Clement; "Bruce Argyle," Norman Rains; "James Hurley," Robert Scharr; "Frederick Gage," Walter Gunther; "Augusta Lesham," Helen Volberding; "Joseph," Clyde Howell; "Samuel Cartwright," Charles Plater; "Thomas Nash," Raymon Wagers; "Bob," Donald Englehardt; "Fanny Colt," Virginia Filippen; "Maurine," Lucille Barnes; "Mrs. Andrews," Cecelia Nehrig; "Mrs. Martin," Dixie Ross; "Mary Masuret," Betty Bergen; "Mrs. Wyatt," Ruth Sweeney; "Nancy Thornton," Ruth Brucke; "Kitty," Fern Dell.

Other plays selected for presentation are the junior class play on March 3, "The Gypsy Trail." This play will be followed by another still to be selected on March 10 and a ticket for the latter will be given to those attending the junior class play. But three plays of the year are intended as money making affairs, according to Mr. Carrier, and these are the junior play, the proceeds from which go to help pay expenses for the junior banquet to the seniors at the close of the school year; the senior play, which provides funds for a gift to the school from the class, and the annual benefit play, which provides funds to help defray the expenses of printing the school annual.

The senior class play is to be "The Rise of Silas Lapham" and "The Show Off." The two plays may be attended for the price of one ticket. "Stray Cats" has been selected tentatively for the annual benefit play to be presented June 2.

WESTMINSTER CLASS ELECTS IN NOVEMBER

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Marked by an unusually large attendance, the all day meeting of the Westminster class of the First Presbyterian church was held yesterday in the home of Mrs. M. L. Pearson, 819 West La Veta avenue.

From 9:30 on in the morning until late in the afternoon, members sewed, completing finishing a quilt of Dresden plate design. Proceeds from the quilt are to be used for purchasing materials with which to do further missionary work in this community. The women also completed four small crib comforters and one larger one, to be used in welfare work here.

At the noon hour, Mrs. Pearson invited her guests to be seated at tables prettily appointed in the orange and black of the Halloween season. Baked haws was the main course of the dinner, to which all present had contributed dishes.

During the afternoon of sewing, group singing and special musical numbers were enjoyed. Those present were Miss Bertha Youngs and Mesdames A. Tripp, Ethel Niquette, Walter Lovell, H. Brown, B. Talbert, Lottie Wallace, W. J. Sutherland, Owen Smith, H. S. Taylor, F. E. Harrison, W. C. Ahlman, C. B. Harper, Taylor Johnston, Alvin Clifford, W. S. Wallace, W. L. McDowell, E. N. Turner, C. W. Coffey, F. H. McElfresh, W. H. Lowry, Paul Risman, Henry Meier, John Hirst, Jane Welsh, C. O. Powell, W. O. Higgins and the hostess, Mrs. Pearson.

The next meeting is to be a social affair late this month in the home of Mrs. Paul Ristow. Election of officers will take place at this time.

CLUB TOLD ADVENTURES IN HUNTING FOR WILD ANIMALS

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Orange Lions listened to a talk by H. J. Snow yesterday in which he recounted adventures in hunting mountain lions with Jay Bruce, well known game hunter of California. Snow told of the strength and vitality of these beasts and of a hunt when one of the lions had traveled some distance after a part of its lung and a piece of its heart had been shot away.

The large cats are able to kill the hounds which hunt them with ease, the speaker said. Snow also told of other wild animals and of the habits of rattlesnakes. The latter, he said, were supposed to like sunshine when as a matter of fact they could not stand the hot rays of the sun and would die if exposed to them for some time. Plans were made to buy a radio for the health camp at Irvine park. The report of the county council of Lions at Garden Grove was given by Ivan Swanger. An invitation from the Valencia dance hall on the Anaheim highway was accepted and the dance will be held shortly.

They were given by a chorus, composed of six girls and four boys.

Mrs. E. G. Stinson was in charge of the business session. At this time, members were asked to contribute empty quart jars to be used in canning tomatoes. The work of canning is to be done at the Americanization building on Cypress street by members of the P.-T. A. Part of the canned goods will be given to Mexicans of the community and the remainder to the P.-T. A. for school lunches.

Members were urged to assist in the welfare sewing at Intermediate school each Tuesday. Announcement was made that the November meeting will be a joint session of all associations of the city. There will be a speaker on health at this time.

Chamber Hears L. A. Man Friday

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at the annual dinner meeting of the organization at the Woman's club house. A musical program will include selections by an instrumental quartet under the direction of D. C. Cianfoni, of Santa Ana; solos by E. E. Wunderlich, songs by Lester "Cactus" Presnon and Elsie and Frieda Hinck.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and it is expected that the program will be over before 9:30 o'clock. Dr. J. E. Riley has made arrangements for the program and he has been assisted by Ivan Swanger and Roy Edwards.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Elden Farrar, who are now holding services in Los Angeles, were recent guests of Mrs. Farrar's sister, Mrs. Forest Talmage, and family.

Mrs. Harry R. Tritt and Mrs. Ralph W. Cruzen were recent guests of their sister, Mrs. Bowen, of Placentia. Other guests were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Gilman, of Redondo Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Danner spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Phelps at Arlington. Miss Geneva Glenn, of U. C. L. A., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Glenn.

Mrs. Raleigh Taylor, of Fullerton, Mrs. Frank Higgins and Miss Dorothy Hanes, of Orange, and Mrs. N. V. Hanes spent one day in Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hilber, of Hollywood, spent Sunday with Mrs. Dettenenthal.

Mrs. Anna Elmer is spending a few days in Los Angeles.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Co. and druggists everywhere, write every sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?—Adv.

TRAINING FOR CHILD TOPIC AT GATHERING

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—The value of spiritual training to a child was stressed by Mrs. R. W. Jones yesterday afternoon when she spoke at the meeting of West Orange P.-T. A. Mrs. C. H. Adams, president, presided over the meeting, which was attended by 40 members.

After Mrs. Colman, chairman of the ways and means committee, had reported on the budget for the year, it was decided to give several small benefit parties during the year. These social affairs are to take the place of one large party usually given to raise funds. Mrs. E. L. Vite, membership chairman, reported a total of 52 members in the association.

Gilbert Bradford gave a piano solo, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," after which Mrs. Jones gave her talk. She stated that first of all, it is important that the child be well born; second, that he have mental, physical and spiritual training. The home is the center for training, she said.

Continuing, Mrs. Jones stated that the American home and nation were built upon the church; the church was the foundation of the school life; thus the nation must not fail to train children spiritually in schools and elsewhere. One of the charts with which the speaker illustrated her talk showed the child kneeling in prayer. The words accompanying the scene were, "This simple faith has made America great; this simple faith will keep America great."

Every child has a right to spiritual training as well as mental and physical, she brought out. Mrs. W. A. Nave served as chairman of the refreshment committee. Pumpkin pie with whipped cream was served with tea. The Halloween colors were used in decorating.

The association will participate in a joint meeting to be held by other P.-T. A. groups of the city November 16, it was decided.

Couple Receives Article On Lake

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McBride, East Washington avenue, are in receipt of an interesting clipping from the Kansas City Star which contains an article giving the history of McBride lake and state park 12 miles north of Scott City, Scott county, he lake and park were named in honor of the McBrides' son, the late Grover E. McBride.

Grover McBride has had a monument erected at the park in his honor and he was largely instrumental in the lake's having been built. It is the only lake in that part of the state and one of few in the state of Kansas.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Capt. C. W. Pyle, of Coronado, and Capt. Lewis Reese, of Dayton, Ohio, were week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Russell. Captain Pyle is stationed at Rockwell field and Captain Reese is at Wright field. They were fellow officers of their host in the aviation service during the World war.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lam and son, Bobby Gene, 623 West Maple avenue, spent a recent day at Big Bear.

Mrs. E. A. Stone, of this city, is reported as slowly improving from a lingering illness. She had a stroke a few days ago.

COMMITTEES FOR CLUB APPOINTED

OLIVE, Oct. 20.—The Get-Together club of St. Paul's church was entertained for the regular meeting at the social hall Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Henry Timken and Mrs. Walter Timken. Mrs. George Lemke served as secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Martin Heman. The resignation of Mrs. D. C. Feemster was accepted.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Serving, Mrs. Walter Timme and Mrs. George Boehner; visiting, Mrs. George Heinemann and Mrs. August Heinemann; entertainment, Mesdames Edwin Brelje, Ed Guenther, William Gollin, Otto Guenther, August Heinemann and George Heinemann.

Refreshments of shrimp salad, wafers and coffee were served to the following members: Mesdames Fred Kamrath, Henry Timken, Raymond Meierhoff, Walter Timme, Arthur Paschall, Herbert Meierhoff, O. Burdick, Walter Otte, H. O. Lucian, A. W. Schmid, George Heinemann, Otto Guenther, Walter Timken, Emil Lemke.

INDIAN STUDY CONTINUED BY CHURCH GUILD

ORANGE, Oct. 20.—Bertha Eppley, guild members of the First Christian church continued their study of the North American Indian when they met Tuesday evening in the church. Mrs. Ellen Fullerton and her group were in charge of the program.

Announcement was made that a one-day convention of the Santa Ana district of Christian churches, including Orange county and Whittier, is to be held November 1 in Whittier. Several members of the church expect to attend.

Miss Josephine Dargan, of Orange, accompanied by Miss Hower, of Santa Ana, sang "The Flute Across the Lake" and "Pale Moon" Indian songs. Mrs. Franklin Mink conducted devotionals on "We Would See Jesus."

Mrs. Mildred Hall gave a paper on the Yaktina Indian work, after which Mrs. Nelsa Wolfe announced that imaginary visits to the Indian Mission station, where Mr. and Mrs. Rice are in charge, would be given. Mrs. Virginia Kennedy told of the first visit, which was in the home of a 15-year-old Indian girl, Mrs. Herbert Sisson told of the situation in the home of a school boy who had just died and Mrs. Walter Crane told of going to the home of an Indian woman, 70 years of age. She told of the beautiful baskets, rugs and other articles made by the Indians.

Mrs. Mink read a letter which she had received from an Indian woman living in New Mexico. She became acquainted with Mrs. Mink this past summer. Mrs. Walter McCracken and Mrs. G. G. Ames were welcomed as new members of the guild. Refreshments were served following the program.

George Lemke, William F. Paulus, Fred Kamrath, Robert Lemke, William E. Paulus, and Edwin Brelje. Mrs. Palmgren was present as guest of the club.

EX-PUGILIST IS FOUND GUILTY IN THEFT CASE

John W. "Mickey" Thomas, former prize fighter has been found guilty by a jury in department one, superior court on a charge of grand theft of an automobile. Judge Erwin Owen, of Kern county, who is sitting in department one at present, set October 28 at 10 o'clock as the date for hearing on Thomas' application for probation. The jury deliberated two hours before returning a verdict.

Thomas was accused of stealing the automobile of Mrs. Albert Maas, of Anaheim. According to testimony during the trial, Mrs. Maas' husband discovered Thomas in his wife's automobile and when he started to question him was severely beaten by Thomas.

Thomas said that he had been drinking on the day of the alleged theft of the automobile and had entered the machine to sit down while waiting for a friend of his. He admitted attacking Maas.

Find Way to Cut Costs of Colds More Than Half

Tears of research by Vick Chemists resulted last year in development of a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks VapoRub. It is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern way of treating colds. Together with certain simple rules of health, these preparations form Vicks Plan for better control of colds.

Vicks Plan was thoroughly tested and proved last winter in carefully supervised clinics in schools, colleges and homes, results showed that the Plan reduced the number, duration and severity of colds by half—and cut their costs even more. The satisfaction of hundreds of thousands of enthusiastic users—all over the country—confirm these tests. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.

To WARD OFF Colds

... use Vicks VapoRub

... just a few drops up each nostril at that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation. Aids Nature's defense in preventing colds.

To GET RID of a Cold

... use Vicks VapoRub

Its direct double action means quicker relief. The family standby in treating colds—over 26 million jars used yearly.

HIGH SUMMER

by Booth Tarkington

SYNOPSIS FOR PRECEDING INSTALLMENTS

The Endertons were the leaders of the cottage colony at a fashionable New England seashore resort and the Brendies had won a place of importance. Mrs. Wheat, colored and expansive, who presided in the Brendie kitchen, could not understand the unappreciative New England attitude of Ambrose Trainband, the gardener, when she bubbled over telling him that the "ice cream folks" were having a "high summer." So she told him that she had just graduated from college and when he resumed his self-satisfied position in the colony, Mrs. Enderton intimated to Mrs. Brendie that his engagement to Kitty Brendie would be agreeable. She told Mrs. Enderton to acquiesce, though with Kitty and her family on probation, at least until the following season, until Joe Nutter, whom she had known for some summers, suddenly developed a violent case of young love and accused her of avoiding him and "angling" for Norris Enderton. Mrs. Enderton, who was not at all averse to Mr. Trainband to call him Bull, the name he said he had won at board work on his mother that she persuaded his father to buy him an expensive car, and driving although under legal age, for speeding and for resisting an officer. He was arrested. When the date for the annual Field Day came around, trucks and workmen appeared early to make the grounds ready for the event.

By nine o'clock the earlier-rising ladies of the summer colony were arriving, and almost immediately looking careworn, began to direct construction, to wrangle with the native workmen concerning impossible but vital alterations, to wear pins in their mouths, to carry hammers in their hands, apparently for better gesturing, and to shout despairingly into the cosmic void. "Now, where's that man gone to!" At eleven the Clisson-Boyard, who was dressed with something more than his usual nicety, though that seemed impossible; but, to let one detail picture the whole, his doubled cuffs of exquisite white cambric were fastened with linked small oval plates of platinum never heretofore displayed to public. With unhurried dignity he passed by the cluster of gentlemen, waving a coldly dismissing hand to them when they would have detained him for consultation. He went from booth to booth inquiring for a bundle of printed papers that should, he said repeatedly, have been earlier to find.

"The programs! The programs!" he said sternly to one matron after another.

A troubled maiden ran to his wife, bearing the news of his agitation. Mrs. Enderton led him to the canvas pavilion of the Executive Committee and calmed him by pointing to an opened bundle of printed sheets of paper. "There!" she said soothingly, and placed within his hand a sample of the bundle's contents. Mr. Enderton read the program thoroughly several times; his cold nose glasses seemed a little mollified as he read:

Referee, Mr. Norris Enderton

The gaudy booths attended by busily gracious girls in costume began to do business and forget change; Pomeroy's Bangor Band marched upon the field, mounted the platform, and, at one minute after two o'clock, made a glittering movement in unison—John Philip Sousa's Washington Post March almost immediately became recognizable. Then, in the open central area of the field, a group of middle-aged gentlemen appeared and, as the band played on, talked seriously together and pointed here and there with walking sticks.

What the conference concerned, the crowd of spectators who watched it deferentially were never to learn, but it was stopped finally by a golden-haired little boy who came running out from the side lines and was charged with an explosive message. This little boy, Melroy Ellington Brendie, pallid with a conspicuousness far from distasteful to him, wore a blue and black costume supposedly Cossack, but too large for him and warm for the season; also, he had upon his forehead a frown imitative of the one upon the brow of the lady who had sent him forth. His opening words, imperiously shrilled, were audible beyond the ropes:

"Hey! The Entrance Parade already been lined up for about half an hour waitin' for you to get out o' the way! Mr. Enderton, your wife says she wants to know for Pete's sake how much longer you'll be in dismissal; he and the other ribboned gentlemen withdrew variously; the Cossack returned to his own position behind the lines, and, after a prophetic pause, there sounded a bugle call. Again there was a dazzling concert of rising, golden lights as the brasses of Pomeroy's Bangor Band were lifted to hardened lips. The Stars and Stripes Forever sounded and resounded, and, from behind the shielding booths and pavilions, Kitty Brendie and Norris Enderton rode forth upon two sleek bay horses, crossed the lowered ropes, and led the Entrance Parade decoratively round the field.

On foot behind the riders marched two and two, the small band of Cossack dancers, rather markedly unequal in height; the Ural Maidens gracefully followed these; then came the athletes, those properly dressed for the contests striding in the van of this last division of the Parade, while the others,

"A moment, please!" one of them said urgently. "Just a moment, Mr. President! Lukens, here, and I are strongly—very strongly—of the opinion that Mr. Peck and Mr. Brendie are making a serious mistake in the position of the ropes we are having placed to give the performers a clear space in the center of the field and hold back the crowd. Lukens and I strongly—very strongly—believe that if Peck and Brendie carry out their ideas"

Mr. Enderton waved aside this petty difficulty; that is to say he exhibited a shapely plump hand, palm outward, toward the worried two gentlemen and, although he was not unpleasantly aware of a decorous sheen of platinum on a fine white background adjacent to that hand, he spoke in a tone of quiet reproof.

"I will settle all those questions later," he said. "You gentlemen probably do not comprehend that at my cottage we shall have some thirty-five guests for early luncheon, motoring from various points along the coast to attend our Field Day, and Mrs. Enderton will not be able to return to the cottage until the very last moment before the meal is served. I shall be on the field again after luncheon in plenty of time to have the ropes changed if necessary and to settle any other matters which may come up at that time."

Not delaying another instant, he strode onward to the Clisson-Boyard, mounted, and was dashingly spirited away to greet the thirty-five other harried workers belonging to the summer colony were by this time departing to their cottages to extend hospitality to guests from elsewhere; plainer citizens in dimmer automobiles, and some in farm wagons, were now on their way to the meadow, and at a little after noonday the village was vacant of its inhabitants. The hotels, too, rang empty after a lunch hour specially advanced, and long before two o'clock a growing concourse of people milled over the meadow.

What the conference concerned, the crowd of spectators who watched it deferentially were never to learn, but it was stopped finally by a golden-haired little boy who came running out from the side lines and was charged with an explosive message. This little boy, Melroy Ellington Brendie, pallid with a conspicuousness far from distasteful to him, wore a blue and black costume supposedly Cossack, but too large for him and warm for the season; also, he had upon his forehead a frown imitative of the one upon the brow of the lady who had sent him forth. His opening words, imperiously shrilled, were audible beyond the ropes:

"Hey! The Entrance Parade already been lined up for about half an hour waitin' for you to get out o' the way! Mr. Enderton, your wife says she wants to know for Pete's sake how much longer you'll be in dismissal; he and the other ribboned gentlemen withdrew variously; the Cossack returned to his own position behind the lines, and, after a prophetic pause, there sounded a bugle call. Again there was a dazzling concert of rising, golden lights as the brasses of Pomeroy's Bangor Band were lifted to hardened lips. The Stars and Stripes Forever sounded and resounded, and, from behind the shielding booths and pavilions, Kitty Brendie and Norris Enderton rode forth upon two sleek bay horses, crossed the lowered ropes, and led the Entrance Parade decoratively round the field.

On foot behind the riders marched two and two, the small band of Cossack dancers, rather markedly unequal in height; the Ural Maidens gracefully followed these; then came the athletes, those properly dressed for the contests striding in the van of this last division of the Parade, while the others,

"A moment, please!" one of them said urgently. "Just a moment, Mr. President! Lukens, here, and I are strongly—very strongly—of the opinion that Mr. Peck and Mr. Brendie are making a serious mistake in the position of the ropes we are having placed to give the performers a clear space in the center of the field and hold back the crowd. Lukens and I strongly—very strongly—believe that if Peck and Brendie carry out their ideas"

Mr. Enderton waved aside this petty difficulty; that is to say he exhibited a shapely plump hand, palm outward, toward the worried two gentlemen and, although he was not unpleasantly aware of a decorous sheen of platinum on a fine white background adjacent to that hand, he spoke in a tone of quiet reproof.

"I will settle all those questions later," he said. "You gentlemen probably do not comprehend that at my cottage we shall have some thirty-five guests for early luncheon, motoring from various points along the coast to attend our Field Day, and Mrs. Enderton will not be able to return to the cottage until the very last moment before the meal is served. I shall be on the field again after luncheon in plenty of time to have the ropes changed if necessary and to settle any other matters which may come up at that time."

Not delaying another instant, he strode onward to the Clisson-Boyard, mounted, and was dashingly spirited away to greet the thirty-five other harried workers belonging to the summer colony were by this time departing to their cottages to extend hospitality to guests from elsewhere; plainer citizens in dimmer automobiles, and some in farm wagons, were now on their way to the meadow, and at a little after noonday the village was vacant of its inhabitants. The hotels, too, rang empty after a lunch hour specially advanced, and long before two o'clock a growing concourse of people milled over the meadow.

The gaudy booths attended by busily gracious girls in costume began to do business and forget change; Pomeroy's Bangor Band marched upon the field, mounted the platform, and, at one minute after two o'clock, made a glittering movement in unison—John Philip Sousa's Washington Post March almost immediately became recognizable. Then, in the open central area of the field, a group of middle-aged gentlemen appeared and, as the band played on, talked seriously together and pointed here and there with walking sticks.

What the conference concerned, the crowd of spectators who watched it deferentially were never to learn, but it was stopped finally by a golden-haired little boy who came running out from the side lines and was charged with an explosive message. This little boy, Melroy Ellington Brendie, pallid with a conspicuousness far from distasteful to him, wore a blue and black costume supposedly Cossack, but too large for him and warm for the season; also, he had upon his forehead a frown imitative of the one upon the brow of the lady who had sent him forth. Mrs. Wheat was so vociferous that Mr. Trainband, embarrassed, would have gone elsewhere; but she detained him.

FIRE PREVENTION CONTEST
CUPS WON BY HIGH SCORES FROM WILLARD AND FREMONT

Frances E. Willard Junior High school and Fremont elementary school were today announced as winners in their respective divisions in the fire prevention and safety contest held in the city school last week as part of the observance of Fire Prevention week.

Last year the winners were Lathrop Junior High School and Fremont.

Announcement of the winners of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce silver cups was made by John Henderson, chairman of that organization's committee, which in cooperation with the city fire department, annually sponsors the contests. Formal presentation of the awards is to be made next week, he announced.

The winners were separated in both instances from their closest competitors by only a slight margin. Scoring of the various schools was approved by Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson and Fire Chief John Luxembourg.

Scores Listed
In the competition, the Willard school won over Lathrop by a score of 94 to 91.

Fremont won first among the elementary schools with a score of 96, barely nosing out McKinley school which scored 95. McKinley showed a big improvement over last year, the report stated. Some of the lower scores were due to building conditions, rather than any fault of the pupils. Henderson said, and those matters have been taken up with Superintendent Henderson.

Spurgeon school, third, scored 92 points, Wilson scored 91, Roosevelt 90, Lincoln 87, Franklin 87, Hoover 86, Delhi 85, Edison 84, Jefferson 83, John Muir 83, Logan 82 and Lowell 79.

The fire drill at Willard was completed in one minute and four seconds and the drill at Fremont was completed in 47 seconds, according to reports made out by Captain John Garthe of the fire department.

Factors Involved
Points scored in fire drills were for promptness of movement and exit time, orderliness of exit, care of ill, crippled, etc., lines clear of building, principal on station, rooms reported empty, exit doors open, class doors closed and condition of alarm system.

Condition of plant scores were awarded for corridors and fire escapes clear, condition of heating plant, cleanliness of building, cleanliness of grounds, condition of first aid fire equipment, care of oils and other janitor supplies and care of lunch rooms and stoves.

Class room instruction in fire prevention was a factor in the scoring, as well as other means of instruction through plays, assemblies and similar events.

URGES SUPPORT OF PLAN FOR STABILIZATION

Holding out hope and the belief that the critical situation now faced by citrus growers in Orange county can be corrected with the help of merchants of cities in backing a plan to stabilize the marketing of oranges, Holmes Bishop, chairman of the citrus department of the Orange County Farm Bureau was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon in Ketter's cafe.

Gus Allen was chairman of the day and introduced the speaker after the luncheon, during which it was announced that George Dunton had been named a director of the club after M. B. Youel had sent in his resignation. The two were tied at the election last week.

In his talk, Bishop appealed to the merchants for aid in affecting a stabilization program for the citrus industry in the county. "I remember the time," he declared, "when merchants were not dependent on the citrus industry, but now all know that such is the case."

Distribution Factor
"Surpluses existed before in the citrus industry in the early days when there were times when not all fruit could be sold. Then buyers went into the orchards and bought on consignment, used what they could and threw the rest in the creek bed. The result was a deficit.

"Cooperative marketing, the greatest boon of the citrus industry, was a direct result. Necessity is the mother of invention. You will never extend markets until the markets are flooded. We must find better methods of distribution.

"There is a solution, but if we don't find the solution we must kiss the industry goodbye. Stabilization means to firmly establish. We want to do that to the industry. Confidence is fundamental. The future is assured if we have confidence: confidence of the customer and trade confidence.

"The consumer selects product by sight. Laws have been made to protect the consumer from deception. The laws protect the growers as well. Merchandise must satisfy the customers. We must do this in eastern markets. The present law permits us to send fruit to the east which is not satisfactory.

Profits Are Assets
"Every penny over the production charge of the grower is an asset to the community. The grower spends that money in the community. According to that, in 1927 the asset of growers in the county to the community was 67 per cent, in 1928, 58 per cent, in 1929, 53 per cent, in 1930, 68 per cent, and in 1931, 35 per cent."

The speaker cited several instances in California where stabilization programs had been put into effect by growers of various products, through the efforts of the Farm Bureau and the University of California.

"It is not too soon to realize what the problem is and to make future plans. Certain growers in Santa Ana this year received only enough returns to pay their taxes. This year, growers' incomes are 15 per cent lower than production costs. The result is that this year the grower is a liability. The grower is sunk if something is not done to stabilize the industry."

PREPARES NEW ARMY

Japan is building a new army, the diplomatic guard unit, which will leave Nippon's present forces in Manchuria free to campaign against bandits during the winter. Regular field campaign troops now on duty as "safety police" are being relieved as rapidly as the new troops are trained. Here is one of the new guard regiments marching through the famous Meiji Shrine in Tokyo before leaving for active duty.

INVITE WOMEN TO SERVICE LEAGUE MEET

Women members of veteran auxiliaries in the county, as well as all ex-service men, have been invited to attend the "bean feed" and meeting of all assemblies in the county of the Republican Service League which will be held tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock at the Santa Ana cafe.

The assemblies are being formed throughout Orange county to promote the interests of the Republican party among veterans. George Kellogg, assistant state secretary, is leading the organization movement.

The announcement made today specified that wives and women members of families of ex-service men will be permitted to attend the meeting.

Following the dinner, the group will listen to a radio broadcast made by John R. Quinn, former national commander of the American Legion. The speech goes on the air from San Francisco at 6:45 and will conclude at 7 p. m.

James S. Howie, secretary of the Los Angeles County Republican League will be the speaker of the evening.

The Orange County Republican Service League will be organized and afterwards each community will caucus on assemblies.

BREA HOST TO NEXT COUNTY
C. OF C. MEET

For the first time in several years Brea will play host to the membership of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County when the regular monthly meeting is held at Archie Rosenbaum's famous Carbon Canyon dining hall at La Vida Hot Springs next Tuesday at 6:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Harry M. May, secretary.

The dining hall is three miles east of Brea through Olinde and a little way up into the canyon over the new highway.

Most of the time ordinarily devoted to a program will be spent in discussing the more perplexing measures to be voted on at the election in November.

Because of the fact that several of the measures are controversial, an opportunity will be given for the presentation of both sides of each measure. There are 20 measures on the ballot.

At the last meeting of the Associated, held in Santa Ana, members of the organization present voted unanimously to oppose the proposition for drilling on tide lands at Huntington Beach. Because of this action, it is likely that no discussion will take place on that subject.

It is probable that a report will be made on a meeting held in the Orange Chamber of Commerce offices when a project to attract industries to Orange county was discussed.

ELECTION SLATED
OCEANVIEW, Oct. 20.—Election of officers for the Oceanview Unemployed association is scheduled for next Monday evening at the regular by monthly meeting at Oceanview school. Officers are elected every three months by the organization.

PROGRAM HELD

CITY FIREMEN MAKE APPEAL FOR BROKEN TOYS TO REPAIR IN SANTA CLAUS WORKSHOP

Santa Ana firemen, who aid Santa Claus in caring for hundreds of Santa Ana children at Christmas time, are ready now to start work of mending and re-making hundreds of toys, it was announced today by Captain John Garthe of the department.

They have fitted out a Santa Claus workshop at the No. 1 fire department on North Sycamore street. Electric saws and other implements have been installed and all they need now is the toys on which to work.

Each year Santa Anans donate old toys to the fire department. These are remade, repaired and re-painted so that when Christmas comes they are as good as new, and each one means a smile of happiness from some little Santa Ana child who would not have toys if it were not for the firemen.

Ask Early Start
The biggest handicap the firemen have had in years in the past, is the delay they encounter in receiving broken toys from the public. This year they expect to overcome that by getting an early start. A plea is made to Santa Anans to donate the toys now, so that as many as possible can be done over before the Christmas season arrives.

Broken dolls, bicycles, tricycles, scooters and planes, engines, toys of all kinds are asked, and persons who have these toys lying around the house, broken and of no use, are asked to call the fire department. Firemen will call for them, take them to the Santa Claus workshop and by Christmas time they will have been remade, to make some poor child happy at that time.

Housewives are especially appealed to, because it is the housewife who knows where her children's broken toys are, what room they are cluttering up, and without a doubt there are many who

Baptist Women Launch Fall Activities With Teas

Launching their fall activities with a group of teas, giving four in Santa Ana and one each in Orange and Tustin, members of the Woman's Society of the First Baptist church took part in some delightfully pleasant gatherings yesterday afternoon.

Privileged to visit each of the teas in succession were the president, Mrs. Warren Brakenham; honorary president, Mrs. Harry Evans Owens; community service chairman, Miss Lula Minter and press chairman, Mrs. Charles Harp.

Various Hostesses
Hostesses were Mrs. R. E. Coulter, 424 South Birch street, assisted by Mrs. L. M. Pearson, district captain and Mesdames A. H. Jones, John Swanne, James Richards, F. E. Moore, E. A. Maher and F. M. Loebe, of the southwest district; Mrs. Earl L. Morris, 512 East First street, assisted by Mrs. J. Farwell, district captain, and Mesdames Edw. Baird, Homer Humphrey, L. W. Foster, Frank Harris and P. H. Peters, of the southeast district.

Mrs. David Meyer, 2434 Heliotrop drive, assisted by Mrs. J. Taylor, district captain and Mesdames J. J. Harrison, Clyde Cave, L. B. Armstrong, Elmer Steffen, and J. H. Hesse, of the northwest district; Mrs. Fannie Reeves, 1909 French street, assisted by Mrs. Albert Hill, district chairman and Mesdames E. A. Bell, P. H. Norton, John Newcomer and Miss Carrie Seaton, of the northeast district.

Mrs. Kenneth King was hostess to the Orange group, entertaining with the assistance of Mrs. Benjamin Brubaker, Mrs. H. A. Ritter, South E street, in Tustin, entertained with the assistance of Mrs. A. M. Robinson.

Orange Group
In entertaining members of their district, Mrs. Kenneth King and Mrs. Brubaker were hostesses in the former's home, 215 North Cambridge street, Orange. The home was made very lovely by many bouquets of chrysanthemums in yellow, bronze and red.

The colorful autumn theme provided especially effective at the tea table, where vari-colored flowers were grouped in a silver bowl. Tall silver candelabra bore lighted tapers in orange and yellow, and other service used was in silver. Bonbons and other features of the dainty tea menu were in keeping with the seasonal theme.

This group spent some time doing needlework, but devoted much of the afternoon to making scrapbooks for use during the Christmas season.

Members of the district include Mrs. Margaret Havens, Mrs. George Spurrier, Mrs. Lloyd Acord, Mrs. W. R. Baker, Mrs. William Murphy, Mrs. Brubaker and Mrs. King.

General Decorations
Chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow were the flowers chosen for decorations in almost all of the homes, many of the blooms coming from the home gardens of Mrs. George Jenkins. Sewing and conversation interspersed with a few special entertainment numbers, made the hours unusually pleasant.

Those who took part in the programs during the afternoon were Miss Mame Havens, piano solos; Mrs. E. A. Bell, readings; Mrs. J. F. Williams, vocal solos; Miss Irene Marshall, readings; Miss Helen Lowe, piano solo; Miss Barbara Jones, vocal solos; Miss Mildred Marchant, whistling solos; Mrs. J. L. Steffen, Mrs. Rena Bouchard and Horace Ritter, vocal solos. The latter two were accompanied at the piano by Miss Genevieve Eustace.

The novel scheme of financing the Woman's society this year by gathering in a mite of pennies, was presented by Mrs. Brakenham and Mrs. Hugh Wiley.

Dinner Hosts Introduce Bridge as Evening Entertainment

Chrysanthemums, always associated with autumn's vivid affairs, provided Mrs. Samuel M. Davis with her floral decorative effects at a dinner and bridge which she and Mrs. Davis gave this week in their beautiful home at 2422 Riverside drive.

Great shaggy blossoms in the rich jewel shades which were used in the drawing room, had been grown in the gardens of the home, and were especially admired by the guests. For her dining room, Mrs. Davis maintained a yellow color scheme, choosing baby chrysanthemums in combination with slim dinner tapers, place cards and other appointments in the same glowing color.

Following the friendly associations of the dinner hour was the evening of bridge in which high scores were made by Mrs. J. E. Gowen and W. D. Ranney, each of whom was suitably rewarded. Consolation gifts were presented Mrs. Ranney and J. S. Smart.

Enjoying the hospitality of Atterbury and Mrs. Davis were Mrs. W. D. Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. Theo A. Winkler, Mrs. J. E. Gowen (Mr. Gowen still absent on an eastern business trip), Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Burke, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smart, Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly, and J. P. Baumgartner.

Club Section Studies Referendum Issues

Study section members of Santa Ana Woman's club were given a clear understanding of the score of referendum questions to be voted upon at the approaching election, when Dr. Evalene Poe yesterday conducted a forum on this general subject immediately following the luncheon with which the club complimented the county federation president, Mrs. E. E. Smith, in Doris Kathryn Ten Shoppes.

Dr. Poe spoke first of the four moral issues involved in the group, and by a series of questions brought out different features of each, thus crystallizing opinions as to their good or bad qualities. That involving the Wright act was given special importance, and Dr. Poe pointed out that those most ardent in favor of continuing this act on the statute books, might endanger it unless fully informed on the manner of voting.

Taxation measures of which there are four, were then discussed in detail and before the study hour ended a decision was reached to discuss these measures more thoroughly at the November meeting, when Mrs. A. J. Knight and Mrs. Charles Hoeft will be in charge. The state federation outline will be followed in the study.

Young Couple Wedded At Quiet Rites In Yuma

Wedded quietly in Yuma early Saturday morning, October 15, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Boone, well-known young people of this community, returned that same day to the Orange home of Mr. Boone's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Boone, 563 North Olive street, for a prettily appointed wedding luncheon before departing for their future home in in Topanga canyon.

Mrs. Boone was formerly Miss Bernice Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walker, 511 South Broadway, and a graduate of Santa Ana high school, following which she attended junior college here. Mr. Boone, known to all his friends as "Jim," is a graduate of Orange high school.

For the quiet ceremony, the bride wore a pretty frock of silk crepe in one of the new autumn shades of blue. The wedding vows were spoken before the Rev. H. Brooke, pastor of Yuma Methodist Episcopal church, in the study of his parsonage home.

The simple ring service was used. After the bridal luncheon served in the Boone home and which was attended only by members of the family circle, the young people left for Topanga canyon where Mr. Boone will act as general manager on the beautiful Charles Price estate there, occupying a charming little home which was all in readiness for their arrival.

Calumit Groups Greet Department Officers At Joint Meeting

When women of Calumit auxiliary, U. S. W. V. met Tuesday night in regular session in Knights of Columbus hall, there was the privilege of entertaining their department commander, Mrs. Pansy Martin of Oakland, who in turn was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Wardell, also of Oakland and treasurer in the department.

Mrs. Martin, introduced by the auxiliary president, Mrs. Elizabeth Moberly, gave an interesting talk which followed the business session during which she complimented the local auxiliary very highly for its work and its high rating in the department. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Wardell were not the only department officers present, for two Calumit auxiliary members hold office in the larger group, Mrs. May Glaze, who serves as chaplain, and Mrs. Lucella Randall, department aide.

As the evening advanced, the auxiliary members were joined by the veterans of Calumit camp who were entertaining their department commander, Charles Bennett. The latter gave a fine address to the associated organizations speaking particularly of the national U. S. W. V. convention held in Milwaukee in August. He and Mrs. Martin both emphasized the reception accorded veterans and auxiliaries in all the cities visited.

Charles Winter, commander of Calumit camp, had charge of the joint meeting, and presented Mrs. Martin as speaker. The evening closed with a social hour during which refreshments were served.

Attention has been called to the advisability of women eligible for membership in Calumit auxiliary, joining the organization now in order to assist in the program anticipated for the coming year. It has been pointed out that there is need for unity of purpose and action, due to financial conditions as well as to policies at Washington affecting veterans and their dependents.

Women whose husbands, brothers or fathers or grandfathers served with arms during the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrection, or the Boxer rebellion in China, are eligible for membership in Calumit auxiliary, and may obtain any further information from Mrs. Elizabeth Moberly, telephone 2052R, or from Mrs. Katherine Reagan, 346J.

Travel Section Told Of Conditions in British Guiana

Despite the beauty of its setting, with its abundant foliage and tropical growth, British Guiana has definite deficiencies, chief among which are its sanitary conditions. Alan A. Revell told Junior Ebell Travel section members at their first meeting in the home of their leader, Miss Dorothy Forgy, 2107 North Broadway, yesterday.

Mr. Revell, who spent four weeks in British Guiana this summer in the course of a lengthy trip which took him to the West Indies and home via Niagara Falls and Canada, reviewed his itinerary, describing his visits to Caracas in the Dutch West Indies, and Caracas in Venezuela, and his airplane flight from Dutch Guiana to British Guiana. Menacing fish infest the rivers of British Guiana, while a menacing insect pest contributes to sanitation difficulties in that territory, according to the speaker.

Girl Scouts Outline Plans for Year's Activities

Outlining a general program for activities of the year, members of the executive board of the Girl Scouts, comprising patrol and assistant patrol leaders of the organization, met Tuesday afternoon in Scout headquarters on Richland avenue.

Frances Was, president; Jean McAuley, chairman of the program committee and Virginia Waters, Ruth Jane Mathews, Jean Russell, Josephine Butler and the advisor, Mrs. R. R. Russick, made the plans.

Meetings of the Girl Scouts are held each Friday, and it was decided to devote the first meeting of every month to business, with some time devoted to playing Scout games.

One hour of the second and four meetings is to be given over to individual patrol sessions. Part of the last Friday in each month will be spent in studying and passing tests. A program meeting will be held on the third Friday.

During November, signalling is to be studied; during December, Christmas work is to be done, with the girls making scrapbooks, renovating toys and sewing for some particular family. In January and February, there is to be woodcraft study; in March, miscellaneous work and reviewing will be taken up; in April and May, flowers and birds will be studied; in June, stars; July, life saving. In August, the girls will go to camp.

Miss Carol Smith, a junior college student, has sent in her application to work with the troop as a lieutenant, and is to assist the girls and Mrs. Russick in their activities throughout the year.

University Women of County to Gather At Tea Friday

Preparations were nearing completion today for the tea and program which heads the 1932-33 calendar of the American Association of University Women and which will take place tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock in the J. Frank Burke residence on Panorama Heights.

The county organization, seeking contact with new membership material, has arranged the tea as a medium conducive to this end as well as to a renewal of former associations, according to the branch president, Mrs. Charles C. Briaco. As speaker the University Women have procured Mrs. Helen B. Paulsen, lecturer on child training, whose topic tomorrow is announced as "Young Folks and Old Rhymes."

Officers of the branch will assist Mrs. Burke in greeting members and guests from all parts of the county at tomorrow's tea.

Mrs. Sylvester Goes To Grand Chapter

Among those from this community who are in San Francisco attending the meeting of grand chapter, O. E. S., is Mrs. Nellie M. Sylvester, a member of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., who left Sunday for the Bay city in company with Mrs. Eva Pulley of Fontana. They expect to return home Sunday.

The two women are attending the session as deputy grand nationals. All the officials taking part in grand chapter social sessions are attending gowned in typical colonial costumes, with pastel shades in frocks, matching pumps and picturesque white wigs. Men attending the convales are also dressed in Colonial costumes.

Mrs. Sylvester is one of perhaps 40 deputies in the state of California.

Announcements

With a successful evening bridge party already shared by country club members, women of the club are anticipating their first afternoon card party to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse. Both auction and contract bridge will be played, and a large attendance of members is expected. Mrs. Charles Doty and Mrs. J. E. Liebig will be hostesses.

Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., will meet Monday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock in Masonic temple. Past matrons and patrons' night will be observed.

The Sycamore Rebekahs will hold a public card party Saturday at 8 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall, according to announcement made today. Card prizes and a door award will be provided and refreshments will be served. All persons attending are asked to come in hard time costume, 2 nominal ticket fee will be asked.

Shiloh Circle Ladies of the G. A. R., who will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Knights of Pythias hall, today received a telegram informing them that their department president, Mrs. Selke of San Francisco, would be present and make her official visit of inspection. It is important that all members of the Circle be present to assist the president, Mrs. Lula Hall, and other officers, in putting on the work of the order.

The John Muir P. T. A. will hold a benefit party at the school Friday at 7:30 o'clock. A small admission charge will be asked.

Neighborhood Class Has Surprise Shower For Members

Members of the Neighborhood class of the First Baptist church who met last night as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Neighbour, 1234 South Barton street, took the opportunity to compliment two of their group, Mr. and Mrs. David Cherry. Mrs. Cherry was formerly Miss Lucy Paul.

During the evening, the honored guests were presented with a basket of lovely linens from the assembled group.

Business of the evening included election of officers. Curtis Pierson was chosen president; Miss Martha Hume, vice president; Miss Helen Blanchard, secretary-treasurer. H. H. Ely, the retiring president, gave a short talk, after which Mr. Pierson responded. Mrs. Neighbour is teacher of this class.

After various games had been played, Mrs. Neighbour served refreshments buffet style. Chrysanthemums were used in decorating.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Willis Cadwallader, Royce A. Edson, David Cherry, H. H. Ely and daughter Nancy Joan, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith, the Mesdames Gertrude McConnell, Velma Jones, Evelyn Wiebe, Louise Mark, Joseph, Joan Bishop, Leah Kier, Eunice Blanchard, Vivian Blanchard, Helen Blanchard.

Messrs. Glenn Eustis, Floyd Klingenberg, Clois Purvis, Curtis Pierson, Leo Bachman, Ernest Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Neighbour and children, Ruanne and Hugh.

Dinner Precedes Salon Meeting; Officers Newly Inducted

Entertaining for 16 members of the Orange county salon of the Eight and Forty and their escorts, Mrs. Glenn Young presided Monday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner which preceded the customary meeting of the organization. The dinner, of which venison steaks formed the piece de resistance, was given in the Young home at 429 Eastside avenue. The venison was provided by Mrs. J. C. Payne of Costa Mesa, retiring chapeau of the salon.

Mrs. Charles J. Leimer Jr. of this city succeeded Mrs. Payne as chapeau at an impressive ceremonial of induction held in the Huntington Beach American Legion home the Saturday evening preceding. Officiating at this service was Mrs. Carol Marks of Los Angeles, a past national officer of the order. Guests were received from Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles salons and from various Orange county cities. Dancing followed the ceremonies.

Officers installed for the next term, with Mrs. Leimer, were Mrs. Louis Benningdorf, la premier demi-chapeau; Mrs. Homer Melot, demi-chapeau; Mrs. William Cummitt, laumonier; Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, le concierge; Mrs. Glenn Young, farci-viste; Mrs. George France, la secretaire.

Outdoor club members spent an enjoyable day in the open Wednesday, despite the windy weather, going to Irvine park for a picnic luncheon. They spent some time hiking, playing tennis and other ball games. Earlier in the morning, they had met at the First Methodist church for gymnasium work.

Those in the group were Mesdames Anna Vogie, Clara Walton, Esther Granas, Catherine White, Edith Gardner, Fred Almas, Edna Machander, Mildred Snyder, Betty Ragan, Frances Hall, Molly Butler, Frances Moulton, Vera Baum, R. R. Russick, and Miss Clara Richards.

YOU and your Friends

Mrs. Charles Hoeft, 1401 Durant street, is entertaining in her home Miss Anna Kirchhose, who arrived recently via Panama Canal from New Rochelle, N. Y. Miss Kirchhose will spend the greater part of the winter in Santa Ana.

Mrs. Norah Maubly of 515 Bush street is spending this week in Los Angeles.

Robert Wharton of Capon Springs, W. Va., has arrived for a visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, South Barton street.

Mrs. Wharton and their little daughter will join him here after a visit in their former home, Parsons, Kans.

Mrs. Sid Smithwick and Mrs. Arthur Frye of this city plan to leave tomorrow for an automobile trip to Kansas City, Mo., expecting to remain in the east for an indefinite stay.

Business Girls Plan For First Formal Party

Pleasantly suggestive of the approach of Halloween were colorful appointments used Tuesday night at the dinner meeting of Wrycende Maegden club of the Y. W. C. A. held in the Y. W. rooms. Between courses, Miss Helen Glancy played piano selections.

Announcement was made that the first formal club party of the season is to be held Saturday night in the Y. W. rooms. It is expected that a large group of members and guests will attend.

Psychological problems were discussed following the dinner. These topics had been suggested by Miss Mary B. Byrne of Scripps college, who gave talks on "Personality" at recent meetings of the club.

Miss Anne Wetherell gave musical readings and vocal solos.

Pertinent Subjects Discussed by Ebell Group

Pertinent subjects were discussed yesterday morning by members of the Correct Speaking group of Ebell society, who met in the clubhouse. Mrs. Jay C. Hamill presided over the business session, with Mrs. F. H. Paterson later presiding as program chairman.

Mrs. W. P. Read gave a talk on "Responsibility of Citizenship." Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie on "The Wright Act." Mrs. M. M. Holmes, "America, Wet or Dry?" Mrs. John Clarkson acted as critic.

There are to be impromptu talks at the next meeting. In January, the group will read a drama, it was decided.

Patterns 2384

By ANNE ADAMS

Our advice to the matron is— if you're betting—bet on revers. Fashion applies them in such tricky ways, they're ever so popular and above all always flattering to the larger figure. This is a delightful model sketched, featuring that very detail. The lace banding, slimming skirt lines and new sleeves also help achieve the graceful silhouette.

Pattern 2384 may be ordered only in sizes 35 to 48. Size 36 requires 4-5-8 yards 39 inch fabric and 7-8 yards 2 inch lace. Illustrations included with this pattern.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Putting Up Those Big Sweet Pickles

From now, until hard frosts take them, we'll see big ripe cucumbers in market stalls. There make such delicious sweet pickles, better to my way of thinking than the traditional pickled cucumber rind. Today, we are sharing the contribution of a Mixing Bowl addict...the recipe certainly sounds sum'mus.

A PEELED SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLE

1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 cup pickling vinegar
pinch each of salt and mustard seed

Cut the peeled ripe cucumbers in sections two inches wide. Scoop out the seeds and cut the rounds into thin strips. Boil the pickling syrup for 10 minutes, reduce heat, put in enough strips to comfortably float in the syrup and simmer them until well heated through, then step up the heat, bring to a rapid boil, and seal the pickle.

I think this might make as much as a quart, but what's a mere quart in the life of the average family? Making things in small quantities has merit though...the product is sure to have more flavor and careful finish if made in small batches.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Party Commemorates 15th Anniversary Of Marshalls

Two former Garden Grove residents, identified with families prominent in that city, renewed associations with Orange county friends this past week end when Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Marshall of Los Angeles observed their 15th wedding anniversary. The celebration took the form of a house party held at Balboa Beach. Mr. Marshall is the eldest son of Dr. Frances Marshall, former resident of Garden Grove, while his wife was Miss Mina Harper, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Harper, pioneer Garden Grove folk.

Party appointments duplicated. In theme, those which prevailed at the wedding 15 years before, the same ball being used in decoration, orange blossoms added to the bouquets of roses and daisies, and small bells adorning the cups placed at each cover about the dinner table. A wedding cake, baked and decorated by a sister of the bride, bore the date "1917-1932" and an encircling chain of 15 links.

The wedding gown worn 15 years before was donned again by the "bride" for a second wedding procession in which participated Mrs. Marshall's father, serving again as her escort; Mr. Marshall, the bridesmaids and ushers, and the same flower girls, scattering rose petals as before. Mrs. Marshall's mother played the wedding march at the piano. Many beautiful gifts of crystal were presented the couple with accompanying bits of poetry in suitable vein.

Extending their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were Dr. Frances Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fry and Frances Fry of Brea; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cridland and children, Dorothy, Jack and Edwin; Alta; Mr. and Mrs. Mark L. Harper, June Harper, Mrs. Mickey Hanson, Miss Ruth Behner, Miss Laura Wile and Stewart Tironymous of Los Angeles; W. L. Canter of Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur B. Harper, Leland Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Harper and son, George, and daughter, Lettie, of Garden Grove.

Ebbel Dancing Classes To Resume Friday

Dancing classes, which proved so popular last year for Ebbel young people, are to be resumed at the clubhouse this week, according to Mrs. Emory D. White, who will have the classes in charge as she did last year.

Mrs. White feels that she is to be congratulated upon having secured as a teacher, Joy Gordon, well known both for her skill in teaching, and for her talents as a dancer. It will be remembered by many Santa Ana friends, that Miss Gordon made a striking success with her ballroom adagio dancing in New York.

It is her plan in conducting classes each Friday evening, to devote the hour from 7 to 8 o'clock to beginners while the pupils who already have had instruction in dancing, will form the advanced class to convene at 8 o'clock. Mrs. White and Miss Gordon working together, have arranged that the music will continue for an interval following the advanced class so that those young people who wish to remain for additional dancing, may do so, with adequate chaperonage and all features of a pleasant party.

Those interested in membership in either of the classes should be at the clubhouse Friday evening, or may telephone Mrs. White at 3489 for further information.

Church Societies

United Brethren
Members of the Women's Missionary society of the United Brethren church were entertained last week in the home of Mrs. T. W. Ringland, 1105 West Third street. Mrs. W. O. Sidman conducted a business session, during which officers and committees gave reports. Mrs. H. Sande explained the "Standard of Excellence" and urged all members to greater effort to bring up the local society's standard. It was decided to send a box of gifts to the missionary station in the Philippines in time for Christmas.

Mrs. M. McNeal presented the devotional service on "Launch Out in the Power of the Holy Spirit." Mrs. H. TWO TALENTED CHILDREN ON KREG PROGRAM

Featured artists on tonight's Community Chest program, to be broadcast through the courtesy of radio KREG, tonight are Johnnie Stout and Olive Schweitzer, talented local children. These two 10-year-old children are talented musicians and are contributing their services to assist the Community Chest.

Young Stout is a violinist. Although he has studied music for less than one year he is acclaimed as an excellent artist. Olive Schweitzer will accompany him at the piano. Included in the program to be offered by these talented young musicians will be "Third Pupils' Concerto," by Seitz; "Hark! Hark! The Lark!" by Schubert-Liszt; and "Cardas," by Monti.

Speakers on tonight's broadcast which is the fourth of a series of programs to be presented in connection with the Community Chest annual fund campaign will include Frank A. Henderson, superintendent of Santa Ana schools and a member of the executive committee of the Community Chest, and William Iverson, member of the Public Relations Committee of the Chest.

TALENTED GROUP IN NEW PROGRAM

Three talented artists will combine tonight in a program over radio KREG that should be outstanding for excellence. W. G. Axworthy, cellist; Baxter Goetting, dramatic reader; and Mildred Marchant, pianist will be featured on the program. This offering will go on the air at 8 o'clock.

Axworthy, assisted by Miss Marchant at the piano will play as "cello solo" the following numbers: "Humoresque," Dvorak; "Venetian Love Song," Nevin; and "Gavotte," by Gossec. Goetting will read "The Fool" by Kipling, with a musical background by Axworthy and Miss Marchant.

KREG NOTES

Tonight at 6 o'clock George C. Johnson, Studebaker and Rockne dealer will go on the air with a program which will include announcement of prize winners in the recent contest conducted in connection with Ted Leonard's 72-hour drive handout to the steering wheel of a Rockne "65" sedan. Hundreds of guesses were made as to the number of miles he would travel and the number of miles per gallon of gas the car would use.

Prof. Harry Lataner will be on the air at 11:15 a.m. tomorrow with the last of his health talks for this week. Professor Lataner is reputed to be one of the leading dietitians of the country and his talks are most interesting.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinymites were quite surprised and startled when they realized that their wee friend, the dumbbell, was in two parts on the ground.

The crash it had against the tree turned out as sad as sad could be. "Oh, my!" exclaimed brave Copy, as the whole bunch gathered 'round.

"There must be something we can do. That little dumbbell was brand-new and now it's in an awful shape. Two parts, instead of one."

"I feel we Tinyites are to blame. That's what makes it seem such a shame. We started for a walk and then suggested that we run."

"Oh, no! You're wrong!" another cried. "I well recall, the dumbbell tried to get us to join in a race and that's when we all ran."

"However, let's not argue now. Instead, let's think of some way how we all can help the dumbbell. We must do the best we can."

Just then one dumbbell head

cried out, "We're separated now no more, for all time and that makes me sad. What are we going to do?"

"I have a body all my own, but I'll get lonesome, left alone. I'm also sure the other half will start to feeling blue."

The other half replied, "You bet! I simply don't know how I'll get along if I am left like this." Then it began to cry.

One Tiny shouted, "Don't shed tears. Perhaps we can allay your fears. We'll all think hard and maybe we can help you, bye and bye."

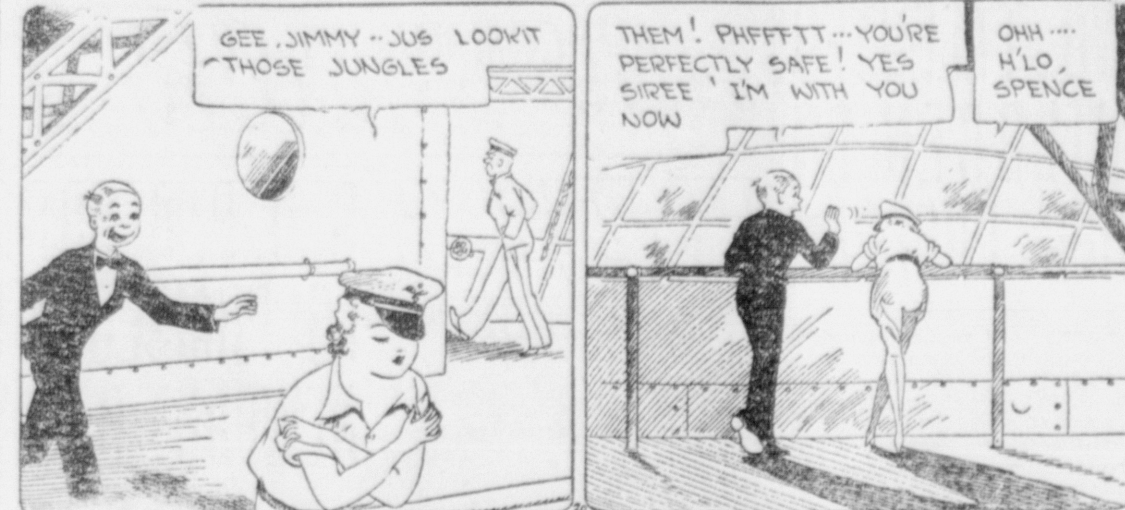

The crying, though, came harder and still. The Tinymites looked on until wee Scouty grabbed the dumbbell head, which he rolled off a bit. He put it by the other one and, just as soon as that was done, the dumbbell stopped its crying. Scouty said, "That pleases it!"

Flower Show At Huntington Beach Proves Success

FIRST ANNUAL EVENT CLOSES THIS EVENING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 20.—Gold fish valued at $200 each, flowers valued at $25 a blossom, song birds, flower decorated tables and thousands of gorgeous bouquets gave brilliance and beauty to the first annual flower show of the Huntington Beach Garden club, which opened yesterday at Memorial hall. Neighboring cities assisted about 50 Huntington Beach women in making the flower show a success.

Newport Harbor Union High school sent two big bouquets of cut flowers. Newport Ebell club sent three baskets of flowers. Santa Ana Ebell garden section sent three baskets. Practically every home in Huntington Beach had a display at the flower show, the contributions covering dozens of tables artistically arranged about the large auditorium.

Blanding nurseries had a display at the show. Wilcox and French of Costa Mesa, had a beautiful display. Hosmer's nursery of Laguna Beach showed bulbs. Opp's nursery of Costa Mesa had a display. L. V. Snaley, of Costa Mesa, exhibited potted plants and paintings. The Wertz nursery of Tustin had a fine display. Among the local commercial displays were George Wardwell's fertilizer and flowers; W. H. Warner, seed and garden tools; Mrs. Laney, birds of several varieties. The Asari gold fish farm and the Pacific Fish farm had large displays of gold fish and water lilies, the collections of fish from each of these famous farms being the choice selections which have won prizes at many shows, one collection taking a national prize.

The high school stage craft department under Fred Brooks, director, had a novel village home and flower garden with a fountain, a pond, lawn, flower beds and bordered walks. A quaint old fashioned picket fence, bordered the pretty yard. The display occupied about 200 square feet of space. The elementary school displayed an artificial aquarium constructed entirely by the children of the various grades. This display attracted much attention and favorable comment. It was planned by Miss Rita Atkins, art instructor.

Mrs. Frank Doensberg, Mrs. Edith Vavra, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schuth, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Roy Larson, H. A. Gallienne of the high school, had entire tables of flowers. The Catholic women, the Women's Relief corps, the Farwell Flower shop, the chamber of commerce, city of Huntington Beach, Dalaney's Beauty shop sent huge bouquets with greetings.

J. S. Lawsh, manager of the Huntington Beach company, loaned some of his own original paintings from his gallery. These oil paintings, about a dozen in all, were displayed about the walls of the auditorium. Some were landscapes and some were beautifully done flower fields and meadows where wild flowers grow.

A group of tables, decorated to depict the various months of the year, made an interesting feature of the show. The following had assisted in the decorating: the ladies: Miss Martha Trafford, Mrs. O. A. Mosier, Mrs. Pearl Atkins, Mrs. Sylvia Conrad, Mrs. Don Vidal, Mrs. H. A. Gallienne, Mrs. Clara King, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, Mrs. A. H. Dixon, L. D. Whitaker, Mrs. J. Sherman Denny, Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Mrs. Jack Colvin, Mrs. Roy Larson.

Employees of the city under Superintendent of Streets Henry Wirth, spent two days assisting the women, doing the heavy manual labor work and also contributing many beautiful palms from the city nurseries. Jimmie Pontius and Frank Parcell of the custodial force of Memorial hall also aided.

Mrs. May S. Jackson and Mrs. J. Sherman Denny were hostesses last night. Mrs. O. A. Mosier and Mrs. Margaret Colvin were hostesses for yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Viola Vidal and Mrs. C. W. Patrick were general chairmen. Mrs. Roy White was program chairman. Mrs. Betty McDonald was in charge of the calendar tables. Miss Bertha Farm was chairman of decorations.

The stage program last night, included a group of songs by the high school girls' sextet; a duet by Mrs. Amy Worthy and Mrs. Edna Heron, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Colvin and directed by Mrs. Harold Schuth. It was a Japanese flower garden scene and song.

Mrs. J. K. McDonald gave the address of welcome to the visitors, opening the evening program. The show will close with a program to-night. Admission is free and no prizes or awards are being made. Several thousand people attended the show yesterday.

Bridge Enjoyed In Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 20.—Mrs. George Garfield was hostess at the first fall meeting of her bridge club at her home in the El Bayo apartments here this week.

Those present were Mrs. Jack Woolley, Mrs. N. O. Shanks, Mrs. J. A. Gant, Mrs. A. C. Dyckman, Miss Dorothy Baker, Mrs. J. B. Spillacy, Mrs. H. L. Roberts, and the hostess.

High score went to Mrs. H. L. Roberts and low fell to Mrs. J. B. Spillacy. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion and refreshments were served.

Fathers And Mothers To Hear Lecture

FULLERTON, Oct. 20.—Dr. Regina Westcott, who gave another of a series of lectures at the old auditorium of the Fullerton Union High school Wednesday morning, announced that she will speak to mothers and fathers at 8 p. m., next Wednesday at the school. This is part of the parental education program sponsored by the Parent-Teacher associations.

Her topic will be "Partnership of Mother and Father in Home Making."

100 TEACHERS AND PARENTS AT NEWPORT AFFAIR

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 20.—Over 100 people, including parents and teachers of the Newport Beach grammar school, met in the kindergarten room last night at an 8 o'clock Halloween party, the room being lavishly decorated in Halloween style, pumpkins, corn-stalks, jack-o'-lanterns, and a witch's hut being in the arrangement. Mrs. John Siegel, kindergarten room mother, acted as chairman on the committee for decorations.

The program included readings and both instrumental and vocal music. Elizabeth Thompson recited "Woes of a Boy." Andri Mander sang "A Little Bit of Honey" and "The Funnel Down Shook in Athone," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Florence Baker. Billy Summers played a violin solo, "Melody in F," accompanied at the piano by Charmell Kaufman.

Maxine Sparkes and Marilyn Foltz did a fancy dance number, a waltz clog, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Florence Summers. Mrs. W. J. Kincaid won first prize, a Halloween flower, in the Halloween name guessing game; David Cherry and Mrs. H. O. Ensign won first prize, a toy rolling pin and an all-day sucker, in the honeymoon game; Conrad Shook received a toy tiger for winning the balloon game and David Cherry got a toy dog as a reward for winning the marshmallow game. Mrs. O. J. Holt and Mrs. C. M. Logan were the committee in charge of the games.

Refreshments of Halloween cake, punch and coffee were served by Mrs. E. A. Rogers, Mrs. Douglas Wright and Mrs. Howard Roberts. A short business session was held, at which time the name of the room winning in the membership drive, was given. The sixth grade room, David Cherry teacher, turned in the largest list of new members, 145 being the total reported. Mrs. Albert Sparkes, P. T. A. president, was in the chair during the business session.

A half day in each month to be given over to some such sort of program is one of the school year projects the faculty has agreed on. The Halloween party was arranged by Mrs. Nettie Bryan, teacher of the seventh grade, assisted by Mrs. S. Briggs. Some time in November, David Cherry and his room of sixth grade pupils will arrange a like program. Mrs. C. M. Logan was the room mother for Mrs. Bryan's class at yesterday's function.

Mothers who acted as directors of the various grades were Mrs. John Siegel, for the kindergarten; Mrs. Douglas Wright, Mrs. W. S. Strain and Mrs. E. S. Dixon, for the first grade; Mrs. Howard Roberts, for the second grade; Mrs. E. A. Rogers, for Mrs. Hyde's room; Mrs. J. C. Dennison, for Mrs. Porter's room; Mrs. H. T. Hayden, for Mrs. Stanley's room; Mrs. O. J. Holt and Mrs. Hoxley, for Miss Hemmingsway's room; Mrs. E. B. Orcutt and Mrs. Laurence Weber, for David Cherry's room; and Mrs. Kings Royle, for Mrs. Wilhelm's room.

'Realizing Our Possibilities' Is Topic Of Sermon

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 20.—The Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church will preach Sunday morning on the topic "Realizing Our Possibilities" in honor of the fathers and sons.

A special arrangement will be made for seating the fathers and sons in the center of the church auditorium.

The choir and orchestra will furnish appropriate numbers.

PURCHASE RESIDENCE

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The Elmer Turner house has been purchased by Miss Susan Russell, of this place, teacher of the Oceanview school, and her two brothers, Dean and Dennis Russell. The former owners are living in Tucson, Ariz. Members of the family of Mr. Carson, who have rented it have moved out and Mr. and Mrs. David Russell, parents of the new owners, have moved in from Los Angeles to make their home here.

ROAD SURVEY GETS BACKING OF CITY BOARD

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 20.—The city council decided last night to back the efforts of citizens in the Arch Beach section who are seeking to have a survey made by the state of that section of Coast boulevard lying between Cypress street and the south city limit and which has not been included in the improvement between Newport Beach and Dana Point. At the last meeting a letter was ordered sent to S. V. Cortelyou, division engineer for the state highway commission, asking for the survey. The city clerk read a reply from Cortelyou in which the official stated there could be no immediate survey and that none would be made until assurances were received that there would be co-operation with the commission. He also asked for the reaction of the city authorities on the matter. Councilman Champlin said he believed the city should co-operate with the property owners and asked for the appointment of a committee to work on the matter. After the motion had been seconded by Councilman Wilson and carried, Mayor J. E. Bishop announced that he would take the question of membership of the committee under consideration before naming it. The committee will include interested residents of the district affected.

Illegal connections with the sewer line by individuals will be investigated by the city council and the offenders compelled to pay a share of the cost of maintaining the system or face a shut-off of the service.

After City Clerk George W. Prior had called attention to the delinquency in payments by a business house that had sought and received a permit for a sewer connection, it was called to the council's attention that another business house had hooked on to the same line without seeking a permit. Both places are outside of the boundary line of the sewer district. Numerous instances were cited of individual residents who have connected with the sewer and are not paying any revenue to the district. It also was stated that the sewer line to the grammar school was connected illegally.

The matter, on motion of Councilman M. B. McMillan, which was seconded by Champion, was referred to Councilman George W. Wilson, sanitary commissioner, and City Engineer Frank P. Gowan for a survey and report.

The councilmen recognized the advertising value of the Laguna Beach Baseball team, which is entered in the Orange County league starting October 30, by granting the request of Mrs. H. Shankle, representing the players, for an appropriation of $50 to get the organization going. Shankle promised that an additional $50 would be raised by subscription.

Councilman Champion caused a bill for $221.50 from the sheriff's office to be held up pending a report by City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey as why meals at the jail are quoted at 20 cents each when the price all along, the councilman declared, has been 16 cents each for three meals a day.

"In these times of depression and when food is the cheapest that it has been in years and when you gentlemen can guess what is fed to prisoners, I don't see any reason for raising the price of meals," declared Champion.

The council went on record as being opposed to Proposition No. 11, which would permit the drilling of oil wells on tideflats at Huntington Beach, by accepting a report of the California League of Municipalities, which informed the council that a resolution against the proposition had been adopted by that body, and approving such action. Councilman Champion made the motion.

The report of Dr. E. H. Sutherland on county health work in the city showed that $1850 in improvements had been obtained as the result of inspections and orders. Bills amounting to $2482.19 were ordered paid.

PROGRAM ENJOYED BY ROUND TABLE CLUB IN PLACENTIA; MERRIAM SPEAKS NOVEMBER 2

PLACENTIA, Oct. 20.—Placentia Round Table clubhouse was beautifully decorated Wednesday afternoon when members entertained associate members at a semi-formal tea.

The associate members, teachers of the schools and wives of pastors of the church, were received at 3 p. m. by the hostesses, the board of directors and the executive board of the club.

After a short time of "getting acquainted," tea was served, with Mrs. Louis Jacobsen and Mrs. A. Arnold pouring, and with Mrs. Melvin Salveson, Mrs. Joe Blanchard, Mrs. W. C. McLellan, Mrs. Ralph Irwin and Mrs. Frank Ross, hostesses of the day, assisting.

During the tea hour, and preceding it, musical numbers were provided by Gordon Dew, Fullerton vocalist, who gave several groups of numbers, and by Francisella Maddock of the Hollywood Norma Gould School of Dancing, who presented several interpretations.

Mrs. Jacobsen presided over the business session which preceded the tea, where Mrs. Griffith, Mrs.

J. M. Gilmore, both of Placentia, and Mrs. J. B. Horner, of Fullerton, were accepted as new members.

Delegates to the county convention that meets October 28 at Round Table club and at Calvary church were elected, Mrs. S. W. McCullough, Mrs. C. A. Cuff, Mrs. E. K. Kirby, Mrs. J. W. Newell, Alternates are Mrs. Gerald Young, Mrs. Antonette Nehno, Mrs. A. L. Anderson and Mrs. Frank Dowling.

Mrs. T. L. McFadden and the president urged all to attend as many sessions as possible, and especially to hear Mrs. Annie Little Berry, state president, who is to be featured speaker of the day.

Among the many reports of committee heads and of department and sections was one by Mrs. A. W. Miller, international relations, who in a brief report covered interesting data from all sections of the world.

Lieutenant - Governor Frank Merriam is to be speaker at the next meeting on November 2, when he is scheduled to talk on "Cross Currents in Our Public Life."

WELFARE GROUP ASSISTS NEEDY OF BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 20.—Ten complaints are being registered by the needy and unemployed of Newport Beach and Balboa, due to the intensive program for relief that is being staged by the local Welfare committee, the Up-club, the P. T. A. and others, it was stated today.

At a recent meeting of the Welfare committee the Rev. Russell Stroup, chairman, arrangements were consummated whereby 10,000 pounds of lima beans, which were donated to the organization by the city, will be ready for immediate distribution to those in need, from the committee's headquarters at Twenty-second street and the Coast boulevard, in the old post office building. Distribution will be made on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons only, 10 pounds at a time allowed to a single family, and 100 pound lots being given to other local relief organizations as the need presents itself. Not much demand is being evidenced for the beans at present.

The Ebell club, through its welfare committee, Mrs. F. D. Lewis, Mrs. W. W. Crozier, Mrs. George C. Conklin, Mrs. Percy Wilson, Mrs. Ida Segerstrom and Mrs. Lester Isbell, is financing the handling of the Red Cross flour and the new cotton goods. Distribution headquarters are at the Welfare committee's rooms and distribution is being made on Monday afternoon.

Last week 21 yards of the new cotton material was handed out. A rummage sale is being arranged to take place on November 12 at some point yet to be designated, the proceeds to go to charity. The P. T. A. will assist in the sale.

The project that P. T. A. is stressing at the present time is the distribution of lunches at school to children who cannot afford to buy at the school cafeteria. They are also looking after children outside of school who might suffer from hunger.

Olive Stone And Beach Man Marry

BARBER CITY, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Stone today announced the marriage on September 15 of their daughter, Miss Olive Stone, to Glenn Schyler, of Long Beach. The marriage took place at Corona. They are making their home in Long Beach, where Mr. Schyler is an oil company employee.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists sell 20c and 60c.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR WATER SPORTS

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 20.—Plans for water sports for the winter season were discussed at a meeting held Wednesday night of the newly formed Newport-Balboa Sports association at Greeley's pavilion in Balboa. An enthusiastic gathering approved plans suggested by Halsey Denman, chairman, for the winter's events to include all type of water sports such as surf-board contests, fishermen's dory races, power boat races, swimming contests, etc. A committee was formed to make a drive for new members, the intention being to sign up every business man in the bay district and all those interested in water sports on the bay as members. It was decided to print membership application blanks which will soon be available.

November 4 was set as the date for a dance to be held at the Rensselaers, Balboa, proceeds of which will go toward financing the various sporting events to be held later. Halsey Denman outlined plans for the dance and said there would be many special features which would make the dance outstanding.

WINTERSBURG BEET SEASON IS CLOSED

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The sugar beet season closed in Wintersburg fields yesterday. Three hundred and thirty-five cars, averaging 38-42 tons per car, are the season's run recorded by Weighmaster Charles Bickmore.

Costa Mesa Boys In Rifle Shoot

COSTA MESA, Oct. 20.—The new class of boys, 15 in number, preparing to join Scout troop No. 6 here, met for their second lesson in Scouting yesterday at the Scout cabin on the Community church grounds. Enough advancement has been made by the class that they hope at the next Wednesday's meeting to finish their tests for the tenderfoot rating.

At this week's rifle shoot, Leonard Collins and Robert Allman won their test for the merit badge in marksmanship. Collins shooting a score of 36 points, 35 point being required to pass, and Allman shooting a score of 32 standing, 30 points being required to pass in that position. Others in practice for the test are Harold Boyd, Willard Viole, Alf Pearce and Chester Tyner.

'Campaign' Play Given Next Week

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The clever "campaign" play presented recently by a group of the women of the Wintersburg Methodist Missionary society, is scheduled to be given four times next week at three different towns. On Tuesday evening the play will be given for the Rensselaers lodge at Westwinds, while on Wednesday evening the group goes to the First Christian church at Huntington Beach. Thursday afternoon it will be presented before the Ladies' Aid society at Costa Mesa and on the following Sunday, October 30, the play will take the regular church service hour of 7:45 o'clock at the Wintersburg Methodist church.

The play was written by a member of the local missionary society, Mrs. C. E. Pratt, and depicts the different ideas of the political factions of the day on the prohibition question.

G. O. P. RECORD IS PAISED AT NEWPORT RALLY

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 20.—At a Republican party rally last night in the Osgood theater building here, Ex-Senator Samuel Pyles, of Seattle, amid the cheers of 300 enthusiastic party members and friends, championed the cause of the G. O. P. and President Herbert Hoover.

He outlined the many things that the party has stood for and done in past year and berated the Democratic party, asserting that the present depression is not the outcome of poor management on the part of the party in power, but the penalty being required of a spendthrift generation, the wide world over.

The fiery senator, a man of 74 years, stated that the administration already has business on the mend and if kept in power will bring the country back to normalcy in the minimum period of time. He went on in his hour-and-a-half talk to hold both President Hoover and Governor Roosevelt up before the audience as individuals, pointing with pride to the accomplishments of the president, and with much criticism, pointing to Mr. Roosevelt as a failure even as a state governor. Speaking to the audience as Californians and particularly as beach residents with a rich farming country nearby, he explained the many benefits to be derived from the present tariff setup.

State Senator Nelson T. Edwards, who is a candidate to succeed himself, and James Utt, who is running for a seat in the state assembly, were both introduced to the gathering, each making a short talk.

Joseph Beck, president of the Newport Harbor District Republican club, sponsor of last night's convalescence, presided.

Announcement has been made that other such gatherings will be arranged for the district by the club between now and election time.

ISSUE PERMIT FOR CHURCH AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 20.—A building permit for the new home of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, was issued yesterday from the office of Harry Overmyer, city engineer. L. H. Corrigan, of Long Beach, is the contractor and work on the new church started this morning.

The church is now located at present at the corner of Eighth and Olive streets and is to be replaced as a part of the new building. The building permit, however, calls for a new church structure, to be of stucco on a concrete foundation and to cost $2800. There will be four rooms in addition to the main church auditorium. The structure will be one story in height.

Party Held By Olinda Pupils

OLINDA, Oct. 20.—Members of the girls' baseball team of Olinda grammar school had a party at the home of Virginia Clausen on Rose drive this week. The girls played games and later refreshments of jello, cake, sandwiches and cocoa were served. Those present were A. J. Barnes, principal; Miss Ethelyn Lee, Mrs. Wilkes, Mrs. Clausen, Betty Maguire, Mable Welck, Leta Boyd, Sara Williams, captain of the team, Vivian Clausen, Virginia Clausen, Rene Neal, Maurine Clark, Earline Clark, Dorothy Clark, Matia Marie Osborne, Raymond Stagner, Gale Calahan, Lilian Knisley, Agatha Newton, Doris Hill and Susan Huston.

Miss Frances Branner, of Brea, spent Tuesday evening with Miss Flora Smith.

Leonard Bennett has returned home after spending the summer at Hanford.

Miss Dorothy Vanatta, of Anaheim, called on Miss Mabel Smith Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Mooney And Harbor Man Wed

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The marriage of Mrs. Lillian Mooney of Wintersburg and Carl Pfeffer, of San Pedro, was announced here today. Mrs. Pfeffer, who has resided in Wintersburg since 1928, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Young, who made her home with her here with the newly married couple. Mr. Pfeffer is in business in San Pedro.

DANCES ARRANGED

BOLSA, Oct. 20.—A public dance is being held at the Bolsa clubhouse Friday evening. Mrs. Henry Hickman will be hostess. On October 28 there is to be a public Halloween masquerade dance.

Stores Must Pay License, City Warns

BREA, Oct. 20.—Brea city council Wednesday evening had the matter of business licenses up for discussion. Chief of Police Williams was instructed to give the business houses one more chance to pay and if no attention is paid the matter will be turned over to the city attorney for action.

Permission was given a representative of the Unemployed association to have a parade on the night of the masquerade October 28, to be held in Craig hall.

Further bids were submitted for the disposal of Brea city garbage. R. H. Phelps reported that the last two blocks of the street repair work will be oiled Friday and that "chuck holes" in the streets will be repaired as fast as possible. Mr. Phelps also stated that the trouble in regard to the street numbers arose from the fact that the houses had been incorrectly numbered, one house having been numbered in the four hundreds when really in the three hundred block. This was said to have happened on account of the owner or resident numbering the house, not the street department.

FATHERS, SONS AT DINNER IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 20.—The October meeting of the Men's brotherhood was held in the Baptist bungalow Tuesday evening in the nature of a father and son banquet. The dinner was served by the women of the Baptist church to 100 persons.

A. D. Brownell led the singing and directed the orchestra which played during the dinner.

The president, A. D. Smiley, turned the meeting over to Fred Dukes, program chairman. Jim Smiley gave a toast to the boys. Leslie Christensen responded with a toast to the fathers.

The Rev. Grover Ralston introduced his son, Barclay, who in turn introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. E. D. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church of Fullerton. His subject was "The Relation of Father and Son to the Community."

Principal Mendenhall of the Kattella school presented a list of 25 questions to fill out in regard to improving the efficiency of the educational system.

COUNTY HENS 7TH IN ANNUAL CONTEST

WINTERSBURG, Oct. 20.—The only pen of hens from Orange county entered in the Grossmont Union High school annual laying contest won seventh place in the group of 32 entrants, the owner, G. C. Finlayson, of Huntington Beach boulevard, stated today.

According to Finlayson, the contest interests poultry raisers in many states and in Canada, contestants from all western states together with the Canadian birds, having been listed for the year just concluded. The high ten of 14 birds of each pen are trapped and Mr. Finlayson's block had as the highest, 255 eggs for the 360 days, while the lowest of the 10 recorded 215 eggs. Seven of the 10 high hens laid over 200 eggs for the year.

The winner of first place was P. S. Dickey of Puyallup, Wash., with 291 eggs.

The local hens which have been entered for next year's contest are single comb white leghorns. This was the first time Mr. Finlayson had entered the contest. He keeps 1000 hens in his local pens.

Mrs. E. W. Edwards Hostess To Club

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 20.—Mrs. E. W. Edwards entertained members of her sewing club in her home on North Pine street Wednesday afternoon.

After a pleasant afternoon spent with chatting and fancy work the guests were seated at a table centered with an attractive bowl of orange colored fruit and tall orange tapers. A Halloween motif was carried out in the other appointments and dainty refreshment course.

Those present were Mrs. Howard Barnes, Mrs. Charles Verne, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. Arthur Woodworth and the hostess.

65 AT DINNER OF CAPISTRANO WOMAN'S CLUB

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 20.—Approximately 65 people were present at a banquet given Tuesday night in the Community church parlors, the affair being sponsored by members of the Woman's club in honor of their husbands.

Tables were appropriately decorated in the Halloween motif, tall orange taper candles, pumpkins, grapes and perennials being used as decorations.

The evening was opened with a song by the group. A Spanish dinner prepared by the members and served by four local high school girls was served. Following dinner the club president, Mrs. E. M. Niso, gave the speech of welcome to the husbands and friends present. The response was made by the Rev. Hugh McIninch. Mrs. J. S. Malcom, secretary, read a letter from Dr. Paul Eastlinger to the people of this community, telling them of their enjoyable trip to England. Mrs. Esther Allen Hubbard played a selection on the piano called "Impromptu in D Flat." Miss Barry gave a clever reading entitled, "In a Shoe Store." Miss Elizabeth Joyce rendered a solo, "I Heard You Go By."

Mrs. E. E. Smith, of Anaheim, and president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, described her trip with the Eddy party through Europe.

100 At Dinner Of Midway City Club

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 20.—Over 100 persons attended the dinner given Tuesday evening at the Midway City club house by the ways and means committee of the Midway City Woman's club as a benefit.

Musical numbers were presented during the social hour. Marvin Penhall gave two groups of piano numbers; Mrs. Margaret Miller, former piano and orchestra leader, played; Mrs. Ed. L. Hensley and Miss Hlamme Hensley gave trumpet duets with Mrs. J. H. Proyer as accompanist, while the men's quartet, composed of Ed. L. Hensley, J. H. Proyer, C. G. Carter and Hollis Fitz, rendered three numbers. Mrs. Proyer was their accompanist.

Luncheon Held By Matrons' Club

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 20.—Members of the Young Matrons' club of the Westminster Presbyterian church met with Mrs. May Montgomery at her ranch home west of town Tuesday for a luncheon and spent the day sewing for the bazaar which the club is sponsoring for December.

The women attending the luncheon included Mrs. Louise Carter, Mrs. May Finley, Mrs. Vera Skinner, Mrs. Alverta Campbell, Mrs. Loraine Edwards, Mrs. Fern Daley, Mrs. Muriel Rhea, Mrs. Margaret Prindle, Mrs. Lucille Wise, Mrs. Rosa Burke, Mrs. Orpha Montgomery and the hostess, Mrs. Montgomery.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. —(UP)—Prices lifted in a narrow range on the bond market in early trading today. After moderate rise in early trading, moderate decline in afternoon caused by a rise in Treasury issues tended to temper U. S. Government and foreign bond market. Government issues were not studied as the session progressed. Fractional gains were recorded by one of the leading railroad bonds, American and Public utility corporations.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(UP)—Prices shifted in a narrow range on the bond market in early trading today. After a brief rise, the market was dragged down by a sharp decline in domestic commercial issues tended to be sold off by S. E. investors. The market was slightly easier early, but steadied as the session progressed.

Fractional gains were recorded by Treasury notes, while Treasury bills were unchanged.

NO CAUSE TO TALK OURSELVES INTO ANOTHER DEPRESSION

We believe that business has very definitely started on the upward trend. This is the news that comes from all over the nation. It is not greatly marked, but it is enough to be definite. And we expect, and believe there will be a continued, even though slow, recovery from now on.

We would caution people, during this political campaign, against trusting too much to political activity to restore prosperity. We know that neither a political party nor its head caused this depression, and it is perfectly absurd to charge them with it. By the same token, our return to prosperity is coming regardless of the outcome of the election.

We know, of course, there are those who have such absolute faith in their own particular party, as to believe that the selection of their candidate will mean a more rapid return of prosperity. And in view of the fact that it has been under Republican administration in this country, that we have had the greatest strides in money-making, and in industrial development, we know that this confidence among business people is more prone to be connected with the idea of the re-election of Mr. Hoover than the election of his opponent.

We believe that because of these facts the progress toward recovery possibly would be more immediate and constant with the continuance of the present administration, whose attitude is known, than in the election of his opponent. But we do not feel that any action of the people in the election of a candidate would send the country to the "low-wows."

This lack of confidence, in itself, might hurt for a period, in case of the election of Mr. Roosevelt, and to that extent delay the progress we are making. But we believe that the inherent soundness of our nation, its business and industrial and commercial life, insures a return, regardless of the result on election day. And we believe that the great captains of industry in this country, and the great financiers, do not believe for a moment, that we are approaching any danger of disaster by any action that might result on election day.

We, in Southern California, are interested in the tariff on our citrus fruits and other products, and the people should cast their votes in the direction where it will help most along this line. We are interested in the return of prosperity to the whole country, selfishly, so that we can sell at increased prices. But we would make a mistake in our own business, and in its general effect upon the nation, if we would permit ourselves to get into a state of mind, where we would believe that returning prosperity would be absolutely dependent upon the selection of a particular candidate.

We believe that this is a situation which the big financial interests of the country have been endeavoring to avoid. And while we most firmly believe that the majority of those men who have had experience and foresight in the conduct of big industries, are associated in the Republican party, and therefore, are rather favorable to its return, and to that extent, it certainly would be helpful, yet to charge that a Democratic victory would mean economic disaster, might be the cause, under the circumstances, of our creating the very condition which we desire to avoid.

This is certainly true, in any case, the uncertainty being over, business will go forward with more determined strides, than it has during these months, when disturbed and vexed by a national political campaign.

POLITICAL INTOLERANCE

The elections will soon be over, and when they are, many thousands of people in the country will return to a spirit of tolerance. There are sections of the country where at a time like this, when politics run to white heat, it is necessary for a Republican to seek protection under the game laws. On the other hand, there are other sections of the country where to be a Democrat is almost a disgrace and the occasion of ostracism. Notwithstanding the fact that every citizen is called upon to discharge his duty as a citizen when he casts his ballot in a conscientious manner, there are those who presume to say that the way they vote is the only way a decent man should vote.

We have all met such intolerance. The integrity or the sanity of thousands has been questioned because they choose to vote for the man or the party they believe will best represent them or best promote their country's interest. Every political campaign creates this state of mind among groups of citizens. When Cleveland was chosen president in 1884, having won the state of New York by reason of the 24,000 votes cast for St. John, the Prohibition candidate, a college professor was mobbed by the respectable people of his town because he had voted the Prohibition ticket. In the South, the men who voted for Hoover in 1928 committed the unpardonable political sin, and will never be recognized in the fold again.

This is not so bad as it was a generation ago. Since that time independent voting has not been such a disreputable act. Those were the days when a sharp-tongued United States Senator compared the Mugwump, as the independent voter was called, to the eunuchs of an Oriental seraglio, to be endowed only with the contempt of men and the derision of women. Fortunately as we have said, this state of mind is acute only during a political campaign. For ourselves, we shall be glad when the morning of November 9 comes. Political normalcy will then be re-established. We shall forget the wild things that were said by the speakers of opposing parties, and we shall go back to the belief that after all we have a great country, a conscientious electorate, and that no man who gains office has designs to ruin the country or any particular group of citizens of the country. We should say to the politically over-heated, "Why so hot, little man?"

THOSE WHO NEED KINDNESS

Those who are in position, by the organizations which have been formed, to come in contact with the needy, have a grave responsibility and a great opportunity for good. The attitude which is assumed by the executive officer, in these circumstances, means much to the person seeking aid.

It is difficult enough for anyone to ask for that which in other times they have been able to earn for themselves, and when received in a brusque, unkind and challenging manner, it adds to the weight of their trouble, and makes it exceedingly difficult for them to carry on with that spirit which, when broken, is destructive of morale.

It is strange that some when placed in a position of this character, treat those applying for aid almost as though they had committed a wrong. The humiliation suffered is, with some of those applying for aid, worse than the pangs of hunger or than the need of clothing.

Others are so fine in their attitude that the applicant leaves them with a morale restored, with a light in his eyes, and hope in his heart. We are confident, in some cases, it is thoughtlessness that possibly causes the brusque air. But it is the greatest place in which to practise the Golden Rule.

Al Smith says that since he has been an editor, he has received an amazing number of poems. He probably has discovered that the life of an editor is not such a happy one, after all.

ROCKING CHAIRS IN CHURCH

In one of the most delightful of the recent story books, "The Mango Tree," Miss Margaret Hamilton tells the reminiscences of a little girl, a resident of South Africa. This little girl, to the great delight of her audience, made up of adults, held mock church services Sunday afternoons, patterned after the church service she attended with her mother in the morning. Before she began she insisted that the men who made up her audience take their heels down from the porch railing and sit up straight for she said no one was ever comfortable in church.

The statement finds many echoes,—except for the attendants at one church at Haines City, Florida, where three hundred hickory rocking chairs have been installed in the auditorium in place of the ordinary straight-backed pews. The business of changing the pews for the rockers started when an influential member of the church complained that he never had been comfortable in church. The pastor of that church has gambled his future on those rocking chairs, or has he? If his audience is comfortable what matter what he says? If they all go to sleep they won't know of anything in the sermons to complain of. But they may blame the minister for not keeping them awake.

Swedes Do Not Know Negro Mind

The reception given the Pulitzer prize winning play, "The Green Pastures," in Stockholm indicates that dogma is not the only bone of contention among the sects. When this drama, which is based on what a Negro conceives heaven to be, was given in San Francisco, its stay was greatly prolonged through the support given it by the denominational churches. Its principal actors filled the pulpits and its choruses entertained the faithful with their "spirituals."

But in Stockholm the players are routed with rotten eggs and stink bombs. The show is stopped. The police are called. Handbills are distributed attacking the play for its "religious lampoonery."

In defense of the play's merit and Stockholm's artistic sense, it should be added that generally the drama has been well received. Probably the explanation of the charge of irreverence in the piece and the storm of protest it has aroused in some sources lies in the fact that the general public of Sweden have no conception of the drama that run through the head of a Negro of the southern cotton belt.

There was a Topsy who grew in the cornfield and now there is a Peter Steffens who sprang from a fountain pen. Peter has been the sort of boy my father, particularly a writing father, would like to have. He was adept at answering questions and surprising at setting forth views to clinch the points of his parent.

This Peter who spoke in the manner and out of the brain of Lincoln Steffens became to many a real person. Of course, many have said, the father dresses up his observations. No lad of ten could be so smart. But Peter seemed human and lovable. There are those who have sent him presents.

Now what is to become of Peter? A psychologist has wiped him away with a declaration that Steffens simply imagined the boy and used him to "express the immortal needs and views of youths." It was a good job Peter did and there is no need for him to drop it. There are visible persons much more unreal than he.

Cleo's Folly Becomes Sense

For two thousand years, moralists have been condemning Cleopatra for dissolving a pearl in vinegar and drinking the precious mixture. Now what was the Egyptian charmer's dissipation of a single pearl compared to the destruction of 720,000 pearls at a blow by K. Mikimoto, Japan's culture pearl king? He deliberately shoveled the rainbow drops into a furnace. And Mikimoto's act is applauded—by the pearl dealers, at least, for its intent is to put up the price of pearls. The moralists have a new page to con. Cleopatra's folly becomes Mikimoto's wisdom!

PROPHETS WITHOUT HONOR

If L. Da Vinci had foreseen That we, by using gasoline, Our planes could fly Across the sky, And laugh at gravitation, He might have been his country's pride. For it was he who prophesied That man in time Aloft could climb Like birds, by aviation.

If C. Columbus, in his day Had glimpsed the future U. S. A. Throughout his days Unending praise Would he have been accorded. For anyone who promised Spain Such an auriferous domain Could not have passed Away at last Obscure and unrewarded.

Though men who live before their time Are afterward esteemed sublime And given praise In later days By potentate and peasant, The fact remains that while they're here Their fellows look on them as queer. Still, intellect Should not expect To find existence pleasant.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

New political aphorism: To the victors belong the deficit. But why shouldn't a town care for transients? Its own jobless are transients needing care in some other town. New York's acting mayor couldn't last. He was so tactless as to insist that all stealing be done in the open. You can't do much for the railroads while they prefer hauling one passenger at $3.73 rather than 40 passengers at $2.49.

THE TRUE PHILOSOPHER IS ONE WHO LOSES NO SLEEP OVER CONDITIONS THAT WOULDN'T AFFECT HIM IF HE HADN'T READ ABOUT THEM.

People who get all their ideas from a boss have one advantage. A parrot lives a long time because it hasn't sense enough to worry.

What's the use? The one reward of all your striving is to be satisfied, and the lazy moron is that to begin with.

If you think a 12-year-old mind makes a moron, try working the 7th grade problems given to 12-year-old Willie.

AMERICANISM: Trying to dodge the pesky life insurance agent; wishing our money had been invested in life insurance instead of that darned stock.

It's no wonder Al Capone thinks he should be out of jail if he reads about the kind of people who are.

The chief trouble is that people don't care who runs the government so long as they can bum a ride on it.

Political campaign: The period of hope just before the discovery that there is no Santa Claus.

PEOPLE WERE HAPPIER WHEN THEY HAD LESS. THINK OF THE THRILL YOU ONCE GOT BY PUTTING ON A GAL'S RUBBERS.

But why risk inflating the currency when we can pass a law giving debtors the right to settle at 10 cents on the dollar. There is no exact definition of a radical. He is just somebody who wants what the conservative has.

And yet we presume to decide whether other peoples are capable of self-government.

New York has closed the regular burlesque shows, but the folks can still watch government by the people.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I MEANT TO QUIT ENTIRELY," SAID THE MAN. "BUT I'LL JUST SMOKE ONE THIS MORNING AND THEN STOP."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE SCHOOLS AND POLITICS

In yesterday's article I suggested that we are in a phase in which the politicians will move heaven and earth to dominate the schools. This attempted domination will have for its object, not only the drastic curtailment of educational budgets, but the use of the schools, negatively, to keep their enterprise of critical inquiry from embarrassing politicians without a program, but, positively, to have them foster acquiescence in the program of the group in power here, there, and yonder throughout the nation.

What the attitude of the self-respecting educator should be in this difficult time, I think, clear beyond question.

A self-respecting educator will not be interested in serving for even one hour a school that has to shift like a weather-cock with every change in political weather, changing its emphasis and outlook from conservative to liberal to radical and back again as varying types of politicians gain power.

The school that cannot rise above partisan labels and follow the truth into any camp where she may be permanently or transiently housed is unworthy of the loyalty or service of an authentic scholar.

Self-respecting educators must resist every attempt to deny them the right, as individuals, to participate vigorously in the political life of the community, state, or nation.

I know of state universities in which any political expression or activity by its teachers is frowned upon.

Self-respecting educators will resist such efforts to convert them into civic eunuchs.

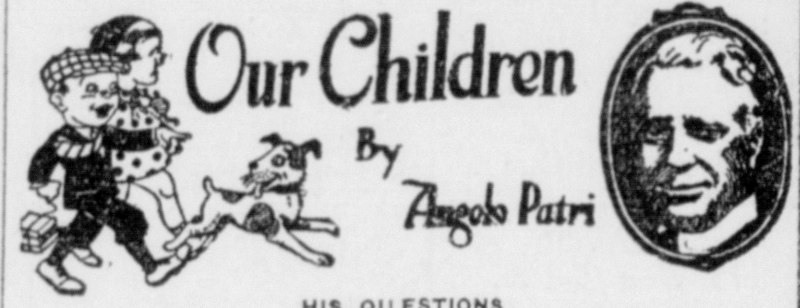

In a time of bewilderment and fear, a thousand and one forces seek to mold the thought and life of our institutions to a pattern.

Against such forces—whether they be conservative, liberal, or radical—self-respecting educators will set their faces like flint.

In a time of turmoil, when so many old leaders, old policies, and old institutions have failed, society needs as never before those qualities of suspended judgment, tolerance, and constructive skepticism which are of the essence of education.

Otherwise we shall but perpetuate our instability and inefficiency.

HIS QUESTIONS

Turn about is fair play. It would be more than fair play, it would be a recognition of a long ignored right, if one allowed the children to ask some questions. We ask children questions all day long. If they ask any we are likely to turn them away.

Questions are a sign of mental activity in the children. If instead of prodding them with questions we set the problem and tell them to question us, there will be greater interest and more mental activity than if we proceed in the usual way.

The kind of questions a child asks will let us into the secret of his mind's quality, the extent and the depth of his information. One cannot ask a question about a subject unless one knows something about it and the amount and quality of the knowledge is indicated by the question.

A teacher showed a class a picture of a city in India, Calcutta, the name of the city, was clearly printed on the picture. "You can ask any question you like about this picture," said she. A small boy near the picture raised his hand importantly.

"What is it, Sam?"

"I'd like to know what city that is?"

"All you have to do is read the name, Sam."

"Oh," said Sam. You don't need to know anything more about Sam than that in order to place him in his class.

Then another child raised his hand. "That's the city where the soldiers died in the Black Hole, isn't it? I've always wondered why the English were in India. Why didn't they go home and stay away from a country that treated them like that? They have so much trouble because the people don't want them there. Why do they stay when they are not wanted in other people's country?"

That from ten year old Richard places him. Give the children a chance to ask the questions. You do the answering for a while. Help them to find the answers in their reference books. Encourage them to bring their reference book to school and to read aloud the paragraph that answers the question he asked. We aren't making use of the splendid sets of reference books that parents buy for their children. Encourage them to use them and so learn to answer the questions that rise to their minds.

If we continue to ask the questions the children will continue to be content to answer the one question that comes their way. It may be "What is the capital of the United States?" "Washington," says the delighted pupil. He was perfect in geography for that day anyway. That isn't much good to anybody. Set the stage for questions from the children and you will be astonished to discover how little, and how much they know.

It is possible for a child to get good marks in a subject and know very little about it because his mind has never questioned the subject. And it is also possible for a child to know a good bit about a subject and get a passing mark only because the teacher didn't happen to ask the question that opened the vein of knowledge he possessed. If the child does the questioning the teacher is informed about his condition and the child is better informed on his subject.
